A photograph of ancient ruins, likely in Ephesus, featuring two prominent standing columns amidst a landscape of hills and a blue sky. The text is overlaid on the image.

Wherefore he saith, Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light.

Ephesians

5:14

name that thou livest, and art dead

Revelation 3: 1

A photograph of ancient ruins, likely a Roman temple or forum, situated on a hillside. The ruins consist of several tall, weathered stone columns and a complex of lower walls and foundations. The background shows rolling green hills under a clear blue sky. The text is overlaid on the top half of the image.

Be watchful ... for I have not found thy works perfect before God.

Revelation 3:2
