

This sheet is not exhaustive but merely given to re-inforce a point!

Gods word is a lamp to our feet!

I have sinned against God again!

You are overwhelmed by the generosity of a brother or sister

You face bereavement

Psalm 23 v 4

You hear of tragedy in the family

Isaiah 43 v 2

You gaze at a pile of ironing waiting to be done.

You are awed by the glorious scenery on holiday.

You hear you've lost your job

You feel overwhelmed by the day that lies ahead

You have to say goodbye to a child leaving for university

You cannot see how you will cope financially in the days ahead

You are asked by a friend about your faith

You have to make a decision between obeying God's word and keeping your job.

You wake at night feeling very alone and fearful.

Having worked hard for the Lord no one seems to appreciate what it has cost you.

Having given an epilogue everyone commends you on how well it went.

You are given a big bonus from work and you are tempted to feel all is well.

You don't know which path to take

You find yourself standing in a packed commuter train.
