

Keeping Our Bearings for an Uncertain Future

January 10, 2021

Psalm 73:23-28

Education

Gender and Sexuality

Abortion

Religious Liberty

Religion

- 1. Know what you believe (Jude 3-4)

- 2. Live what you believe (1 Timothy 1:5)

- 3. Share what you believe (2 Timothy 1:8)

- 4. Know whom you believe (2 Timothy 1:8-12)

“The assurance of God’s ultimate victory means, not that we are excused from the hard work of [involvement in society and politics], but that we know the end of the story in advance. We do not know how the twists and turns in the ongoing plot will contribute to the final chapter, despite some Christians’ efforts to seek such knowledge. We cannot know how soon Christ will return to bring his kingdom to its promised plenitude. It may be tomorrow. It may be a thousand years from now. Nor can we know the extent to which our own fallible labors will contribute to its advance. But we do know that the finale will come and that God sees fit to use our own frail efforts for his own purposes and glory.”

Koyzis, David T.. Political Visions & Illusions (p. 273). InterVarsity Press. Kindle Edition.