* How is this passage misinterpreted?

* What other passages bring clarity to what Paul is saying here?

* The application to believers is clear: "Why, then," Paul asks the Corinthians, "do you keep living like the unsaved, the unrighteous? Why do you keep falling into the ways of your old life, the life from which Christ has saved you? Why are you following the old standards, and having the old selfish, ungodly motives? You are to be separated from the world's ways, not following them. And specifically, why are you taking your problems to the world's courts?"

*How does this apply to you?
