

2 Corinthians 2:14–17

<sup>14</sup> Now thanks be to God who always leads us in triumph in Christ, and through us diffuses the fragrance of His knowledge in every place.

<sup>15</sup> For we are to God the fragrance of Christ among those who are being saved and among those who are perishing.

<sup>16</sup> To the one we are the aroma of death leading to death, and to the other the aroma of life leading to life. And who is sufficient for these things?

<sup>17</sup> For we are not, as so many, peddling the word of God; but as of sincerity, but as from God, we speak in the sight of God in Christ.

Thanks Be to God 2 Corinthians 2:14-17

INTRO:

At Thanksgiving time we think of many reasons to be thankful. Paul's thankfulness came in the midst of great struggle and hard work. His spontaneous thanksgiving to God reminded him of many realities about his God. Paul went through many struggles and endured reminding himself how the Lord Jesus Christ would triumph and God the Father would declare His victory.

I. We Can Be Frustrated, God Can't

2 Corinthians 2:14 “Now thanks be to God who always leads us in triumph in Christ, and through us diffuses the fragrance of His knowledge in every place.”

A. It was not always fun being the Apostle Paul. We read this far in 2 Corinthians and we learn how frustrated and troubled Paul sometimes was in ministry. (1) We read in chapter 1 about the difficulties Paul faced in the time he was absent from Corinth. (2) Then he talked about how his plans for travel had changed. (3) In chapter two, he recited his fears about coming to them and instructed them about the man who had repented of his sin. (4) Finally, in verses 12-13, he hoped to meet Titus whom he sent ahead to Corinth to learn of their attitude toward him. Titus was not there in Troas. Although God open doors for ministry, he could not carry on there because he was too troubled about the Corinthians. Against this background of uncertainty and distress, Paul sounds a strong note of certainty and assurance.

B. *“Now thanks be to God who always leads us in triumph in Christ.”

Paul wanted his readers to understand that although Paul did not know what God was doing at every point in his life, he knew God knew what He was doing. We have a term for how God always works for His children. It is providence. We find believers of all ages have clung to this assurance.

1. Do you remember Joseph?

Genesis 50:19–20 “Joseph said to them, ‘Do not be afraid, for am I in the place of God? But as for you, you meant evil against me; but God meant it for good, in order to bring it about as it is this day, to save many people alive.’”

2. Paul, himself, gave us one of the greatest promises concerning God’s providence.

Romans 8:28 “And we know that all things work together for good to those who love God, to those who are the called according to His purpose.”

C. God is always leading us in a parade of triumph. His plan and purpose for us and His eternal plan are never frustrated.

II. God Uses Us to Show Who He is

2 Corinthians 2:14b-16 “And through us diffuses the fragrance of His knowledge in every place. For we are to God the fragrance of Christ among those who are being saved and among those who are perishing. To the one we are the aroma of death leading to death, and to the other the aroma of life leading to life. And who is sufficient for these things?”

A. How does God always lead us in triumph in Christ? He uses us to disclose Who He is and what He has done in Christ Jesus. Using his word picture, Paul described our revealing Christ as the aroma of the sacrifices to God. We are to be living sacrifices and what does our lives given in service to God do?

“For we are to God the fragrance of Christ among those who are being saved and among those who are perishing.”

We show Christ to everyone we meet and in every spiritual condition. We do this revealing of Who Christ is through the way we live and what we say.

1. “To the one we are the aroma of death leading to death.” Paul wrote about those who reject Christ first. He probably did this because he knew the temptation to feel when we witnesses to those who will not receive, we feel like we have wasted our effort. Although we feel this way the reality is God is glorified and His Will is somehow accomplished when we put out effort to reach those who will never come to Christ.

2. Here is the fun part. “And to the other the aroma of life leading to life.” God, through us, shows Who He is and what Christ has done. To those who believe, we become the conduit of salvation. In this way, to many we are the savor of life to life long before they believe.

3. Do you remember the Lord Jesus talking to His disciples in John 4:36-38?
“And he who reaps receives wages, and gathers fruit for eternal life, that both he who sows and he who reaps may rejoice together. For in this the saying is true: ‘One sows and another reaps.’ I sent you to reap that for which you have not labored; others have labored, and you have entered into their labors.”

B. In view of all of this, Paul asked an important question, “And who is sufficient for these things?” Paul answered the question in 3:5.
“Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think of anything as being from ourselves, but our sufficiency is from God.”

No one is in themselves. We are sufficient only as God works in us and through us.

C. How does this happen?
“For we are not, as so many, peddling the word of God; but as of sincerity, but as from God, we speak in the sight of God in Christ.”

There is a negative and a positive here.

1. Paul did not peddle the Bible for his own purposes. He ministered out of sincerity. Paul’s objectives and motives were pure. He did what He did to please God.

2. He recognized all his ministry to unbelievers were conducted in the sight of God. God watched what he did and why he did it. And He desired to speak what God gave him to speak.

What Do We Take From This?

1. Our God is never frustrated or defeated. His plan is never off the rails. God always had a plan and is carrying that plan through to the end of the age.

2. The Lord is using us even when it may seem that our efforts are in vain.
“I planted, Apollos watered, but God gave the increase. So then neither he who plants is anything, nor he who waters, but God who gives the increase.”
(1 Corinthians 3:6–7).

3. Who is sufficient for these things? Certainly not you or me in ourselves, we are sufficient only as Christ works in and through us. For God is working in us the willing and the doing of His good pleasure.

4. If you do not know Christ as Savior, what will you do with the Gospel today? The Word you hear is either a revelation of Christ through whom you can find life everlasting or death eternally. What will you do with Jesus?
