

The image is a composite graphic. On the left, a green-skinned woman with long hair sits cross-legged, holding two globes of the Earth. In the center, a large, glowing eye is carved into a cave wall, with a bright light emanating from it. On the right, a complex blue geometric diagram, resembling a Sri Yantra or a similar sacred geometry, is overlaid on the scene. The background is a dark, starry space with a path leading towards the cave.
