

Trusting During Times of Deception?

(November 3, 2022)

This question is becoming more and more important with each passing day. We know that the Bible warns us about the deception that will occur during the end times leading up to and including the Tribulation period (Matthew 24; Mark 13; Luke 21; 1 Timothy 4:1; 2 Timothy 3:1-5; 2 Peter 2; 3:3-7).

One would think that leaders within Christendom can generally be trusted when it comes to their advice regarding health decisions we make, but unfortunately, this has proven not to be the case. Instead of them working to protect the flock from lies and harm, many have jumped on the bandwagon to convince people to take an experimental jab that is proving to do far more harm than any good it was said to effect. [1, 2] This is not only tragic but heartbreaking when considering just how many have believed what they've been told and still believe even though people around them (and in many cases, they themselves), are experiencing terrible adverse reactions to the jab and even death in increasing numbers.

Dr. Joseph Mercola wrote an article where he highlighted a number of the times religious leaders sided with government expert medical talking heads and agencies in an attempt to help folks accept the CV jab. These leaders have done whatever they could to overcome people's fears of the experimental gene therapy jab. Mercola's article is linked in the footnotes as a PDF. [3] We are now seeing the outcome of this massive propaganda campaign, which includes growing numbers of adverse reactions and sudden deaths. [4]

Some of the well known "names" within Christendom who have stepped up and put their stamp of approval on the jab are:

- Dr. Francis Collins
- Russell Moore
- Ed Stetzer
- Franklin Graham
- Rick Warren
- Tim Keller, and others

In 2020, a document called "Love Your Neighbor, Get the Shot" was distributed by BioLogos (a Dr. Francis Collins organization), and was approved and signed by many including:

- N.T. Wright
- Philip Yancey

New Neurologic Side Effects
From the COVID-19 Vaccinations

By Dr. Peter A. McCullough

Because lipid nanoparticles get into the brain and install mRNA code for the damaging Spike protein. No way to avoid some degree of neurological injury. Subclinical for all and clinical (neuropathy headache tinnitus stroke GBS) in the less fortunate.

Join 🖱️

@Pierre\_Kory\_Official

🕒 5:00 12:56 AM

- Lisa Sharon Harper
- Veggie Tales creator Phil Vischer
- Christianity Today CEO Timothy Dalrymple, and
- several seminary presidents

Religious leaders across many denominations and religions tried to ease people's fears about the experimental CV jab. Because of that, we are seeing destruction of people's immune systems for thousands and thousands of people. Hospitals are not being filled with the unvaxxed as Biden and others warned but with the vaxxed. I don't blame the people who, in good faith, took the jab based on what turned out to be false premises to save their jobs. At the same time, government had no right to mandate that, but they did.

The saddest part of all this is how religious leaders tried to justify their positions by using the Bible and the life of Jesus as the example. They constantly intoned that "Jesus would have gotten the vax," which is, at best, wishful thinking on their parts based totally on feelz. There is no example of God the Son ever being sick or seeing any type of medical person (like Dr. Luke), during His lifetime. In fact, Jesus constantly pointed people toward God in faith for healing. He even raised people from the dead who were unable to actively participate through faith.

Yet, these leaders had no problem stating unequivocally that Jesus would have taken the jab. They told us repeatedly that Jesus, because of His great love for humanity would have taken the jab because it would (allegedly) stop the virus in its tracks and not be spread to other people by the person who took the vax. That was the main reason used by religious leaders to literally guilt people into taking the vax.

But since we now know beyond any doubt that the vax was not able to stop the spread and was not even able to keep those who received it from also acquiring COVID, then the whole line of reasoning falls apart. It was a bold-faced lie from the beginning.

In another article by Mercola posted December 2021, he highlights a severe increase in deaths occurring just 13 weeks prior to that article where "...107,700 seniors died above the normal rate, despite a 98.7% injection rate." [5; emphasis added] The medical community continues to be "baffled" at the mysterious uptick in deaths.

One would think that if they are so absolutely certain there is zero connection to the vax, they would offer as much data as possible to support that conclusion. Instead, they simply ignore the data that appears to show there is a connection. Those who do try to ask honest questions are banned, censored or ridiculed as "conspiracy theorists." In spite of what some may believe, this reaction is absolutely telling.

JC Denton
Forwarded From
PLANDEMIC 1984

THE NEW ENGLAND JOURNAL OF MEDICINE

The study from the New England Journal of Medicine found that children injected with COVID-19 shots actually had their natural immunity destroyed, while their unvaccinated counterparts held on to their robust natural immunity for exponentially longer.

This can explain current rise in RSV in children.

Dr. Mercola also highlights the criminality of Pfizer over the years in that article.

Between 2002 and 2010 alone, Pfizer and its subsidiaries were fined $3 billion in criminal convictions, civil penalties and jury awards.

That's 3 billion dollars in criminal convictions!

In 2011, Pfizer agreed to pay another $14.5 million to settle federal charges of illegal marketing, and in 2014 they settled federal charges relating to improper marketing of the kidney transplant drug Rapamune to the tune of $35 million.

On top of $3 billion, there's $14.5 million and another $35 million. Is that it? Nope.

They also had a $75 million judgment to settle charges relating to their unethical testing of a new broad spectrum antibiotic on critically ill Nigerian children. That same year, Pfizer also faced thousands of lawsuits accusing it of hiding known side effects of its anticholesterol drug Lipitor.

Another $75 million? Yet, they're still allowed to operate as a company?!

The drug Lipitor (a statin), has been around for a while and millions of people have taken it or are currently taking it to treat high cholesterol. It is believed by my aunt that my uncle died because he was on Lipitor for years. His muscles atrophied and eventually lost all muscle tone. He was so frail and thin he had to be carried everywhere and finally, his body just gave up. Doctors were again, "mystified" and could find no connection with anything.

I was on Lipitor for one month and I began experiencing serious muscle fatigue and pain in my calf muscles that came out of nowhere. I stopped the drug and the pain vanished within several days. I then found Niacin, which turns out to be a natural statin. Since Niacin works so well, why would I go back to a drug created in a lab?

Some of the tide may finally be turning though. We just learned last week of New York State Supreme Court's ruling against the city of New York City. The court has ordered that all employees fired for not taking the vax, be reinstated and recommended back pay be given. The court said essentially that the mandate was unconstitutional. Frankly, I'm really surprised that a blue state's court system would rule this way, but it's great that they did.

In related news, Igor Chudov recently reported on The Atlantic, which appears to be asking for "forgiveness." Author Emily Oster's subtitle states, "We need to forgive one another for what we did and said when we were in the dark about COVID."

Gee, if I remember correctly, the reason most were "in the dark" was solely due to the fact that the mainstream media, following the cues from Fauci, Birx and others, would not allow any thoughts, questions or comments that did not prop up their narrative. No one was allowed to ask about Ivermectin or Hydroxychloroquine. Oh no, those cheap drugs would "kill" people so stay away! No,

Remdesivir and a machine that breathed for you was far superior (even though many died because of that treatment).

But Oster at The Atlantic is now ready to admit a few things.

In April 2020, with nothing else to do, my family took an enormous number of hikes. We all wore cloth masks that I had made myself. We had a family hand signal, which the person in the front would use if someone was approaching on the trail and we needed to put on our masks. Once, when another child got too close to my then-4-year-old son on a bridge, he yelled at her "SOCIAL DISTANCING!" [6]

Ready for the admission? Oster's first sentence of the next paragraph says, "These precautions were totally misguided." Really? Yes, she really printed that. Her implication is that we could not have known. Well, if we had listened to some very intelligent epidemiologists at the start of this "pandemic," we would have known and have been much better off. Instead, we listened to the fear-mongers and not only gave in, but actually embraced the fear so that we became a society of people who saw other people as walking viruses and death. The common belief then was that we needed to social distance, wear masks and stay locked in at home unless we absolutely had to go out or we would risk contracting CV and dying. The belief that it was rare to survive CV was the normal, accepted thinking.

Yet, Oster's article is patently vapid, filled with tripe and mixed signals. For a great review of it, read Igor Chudov's comments. [7] For another take, where the author calls out Oster's "forgive and forget" mantra, read "Emily Oster proposes 'a pandemic amnesty'..." [8] Warning: the author uses a bit of foul language.

What epidemiologists tried to tell us way back (before they were censored), is that wearing masks and social distancing actually makes things worse because it doesn't help our immune systems but actually starts to compromise them. When we briefly pass people in close proximity while in public, yes, we can pick up something from them. But if our immune systems are working well, we will be able to fight it off and at the same time make our immune systems stronger. By distancing from people, wearing masks, refusing to hug or shake hands, we are causing our immune systems to relax and not be on alert. Herd Immunity is an actual thing and it has never needed a vaccine before.

Months later, when people decided to stop wearing masks (IF decided), and then once again get closer physically to people, immune systems will be susceptible to many illnesses that normally would not impact people. Please do not tell me that Fauci and Birx were not aware of this. They were aware of it and pushed it anyway. Why? If I have to tell you, you are not using critical thinking skills.

So all that went on is due to simply not knowing? Whether it was the mainstream media backing up the so-called experts who told us social distancing and masks would be the way to go until the vax became available, or others in the press like The Atlantic or religious leaders trying to twist our arms by guilting us into taking the jab ("love your neighbor!"), the reality is that it is looking seriously like global society has been played. How many more will die still?

All of this means that before you trust anyone again, think twice or three times. Please let's not forget that Jesus warned us that the deception of these last days would be so profound that if it was possible, even the elect would be deceived (Matthew 24:24). In 2 Thessalonians 2:7-12, Paul warns about this end times deception.

7 For the mystery of lawlessness is already at work. Only he who now restrains it will do so until he is out of the way. 8 And then the lawless one will be revealed, whom the Lord Jesus will kill with the breath of his mouth and bring to nothing by the appearance of his coming. 9 The coming of the lawless one is by the activity of Satan with all power and false signs and wonders, 10 and with all wicked deception for those who are perishing, because they refused to love the truth and so be saved. 11 Therefore God sends them a strong delusion, so that they may believe what is false, 12 in order that all may be condemned who did not believe the truth but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

The strong delusion appears to be here or on its way. The percentage of global society that was deceived into taking something that can harm or kill is absolutely astounding. Many are waking up to that reality, but the damage to their bodies may have already been done.

Based on the CV pandemic and its results, can we say and believe that government and many of our religious leaders have our best interests at heart?

[1] <https://stevekirsch.substack.com/p/this-is-a-pandemic-of-the-vaccinated>

[2] <https://usawatchdog.com/cv19-vax-destroys-hearts-brains-of-billions-of-people-dr-sucharit-bhakdi/>

[3] faith-leaders-promotes-covid-vaccine-pdf

[4] https://t.me/died\_suddenly

[5] Excess Deaths Exploding Despite Mass Vaccination \(substack.com\)

[6] <https://www.theatlantic.com/ideas/archive/2022/10/covid-response-forgiveness/671879/>

[7] https://igorchudov.substack.com/p/the-atlantic-is-asking-for-pandemic?utm\_source=profile&utm\_medium=reader2

[8] <https://www.eugyppius.com/p/emily-oster-proposes-a-pandemic-amnesty>