

God's Perspective on Work and Family

Psalm 127

Main Point:

As a Christian pilgrim, view your work and family from God's perspective.

1. Work and family are often misunderstood in society today.
2. While work requires your effort, it is entirely dependent on God.
3. While children are thought to be a burden, they are actually a blessing.
4. As a Christian pilgrim, view your work and family from God's perspective.

Josh Moody "This psalm is painting a picture of reality, and it is asking you to watch and behold life like that. Seeing life as it were through the eyes of God ..."

David Dickson "He can work without means, but the means can effect nothing without him."

1 Corinthians 3:6 6 I planted, Apollos watered, but God gave the increase. (NKJV)

Rhett Dodson "Arrows are the warrior's means of protection and defense, and that's what children can become to their parents."

Allan Harman "Children bring responsibilities upon the parents, but in turn they become active in the life of the family. Their gifts and abilities serve the needs of the whole family."

Psalm 90:17 17 And let the beauty of the LORD our God be upon us, And establish the work of our hands for us; Yes, establish the work of our hands. (NKJV)

Rhett Dodson "The workaholic sees sleep as a necessary evil, the means to give him or her energy to earn more money. We need to see sleep as a gift from God, not an intrusion into our schedules or a waste of time."
