Worthy of Praise

The Exalted God Who is Near

Psalm 148

Almighty God, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, help us this morning to see that you exist without any need whatsoever for any other, that your being is not the compiling of different parts but is uncreated and majestic, of a single piece, that you live outside of time as well as outside of creation, and so are unchanging, not growing old, and are truly alive in every moment of time there ever was, and outside of time. And yet you humbled yourself, taking on flesh to bring a sinful people to yourself, causing those you have brought near to yourself in grace to lift up songs of praise to the holy God who is good. Draw us near this morning, through the blood of Christ Jesus your only begotten Son, in the power of your Holy Spirit. Amen
