It was a common thing, as soon as the Bible was opened, after the preliminary services, and just as the reader began—here, you will observe, it was the simple reading of the Word without preaching; yet such was the power upon the minds of the people, that it was a common thing, as soon as the Bible was opened, after the preliminary services, and just as the reader began, for great meltings to come upon the hearers. The deepest attention was paid to every word as the sacred verses were slowly and solemnly enunciated. Then the silent tear might be seen stealing down the rugged but expressive faces turned upon the reader . . . It was often a stirring sight to witness the multitudes assembling during the dark winter evenings—to trace their progress as they came in all directions across moors and mountains by the blazing torches which they carried to light their way to the places of meeting. The Word of the Lord was precious in those days; and personal inconvenience was little thought of when the hungry soul sought to be satisfied.”

If God's mighty voice can speak so that the whole world is created (Genesis 1), just imagine how destructive his thundering voice will be when he speaks and his judgment instantly happens.
