

Old Age. New Life.

Genesis 46-47

Although Jacob was an old man, he gained a sense of new life as he came to grasp the meaning of knowing and trusting God.

- I. Jacob's _____ to Egypt (46:1-7)
- II. Jacob's _____ to Grow (46:8-27)
- III. Jacob's _____ in Goshen (46:31; 47:5-6)
- IV. Jacob's _____ of Pharaoh (47:7-12)

As Jacob stood before Pharaoh in Genesis 46-47 he realized that all of his striving had been for naught. Jacob was now homeless and helpless in Egypt. He could no longer trust in his own devices or his own resources. He had no other choice than to trust God in a foreign land.

This was the beginning of a whole new life for Jacob. It would last only for 17 years, but it was a life lived in the blessings that only grace can give and that only faith can see. He was not living in Canaan, but he had entered into "Canaan's rest" — the rest which is obtained by faith, the rest that is forfeited by unbelief (cf. Heb 3-4).

Old Age. New Life.

Genesis 46-47

Although Jacob was an old man, he gained a sense of new life as he came to grasp the meaning of knowing and trusting God.

- I. Jacob's _____ to Egypt (46:1-7)
- II. Jacob's _____ to Grow (46:8-27)
- III. Jacob's _____ in Goshen (46:31; 47:5-6)
- IV. Jacob's _____ of Pharaoh (47:7-12)

As Jacob stood before Pharaoh in Genesis 46-47 he realized that all of his striving had been for naught. Jacob was now homeless and helpless in Egypt. He could no longer trust in his own devices or his own resources. He had no other choice than to trust God in a foreign land.

This was the beginning of a whole new life for Jacob. It would last only for 17 years, but it was a life lived in the blessings that only grace can give and that only faith can see. He was not living in Canaan, but he had entered into "Canaan's rest" — the rest which is obtained by faith, the rest that is forfeited by unbelief (cf. Heb 3-4).