- 1. Massa translated "burden" or "oracle"
 - a. The etymology derives from the meaning "to take up or carry"
 - b. The placement of this word here in the Hebrew likely serves as a title and introduces this prophetic declaration.
 - c. This is also seen in Zechariah 12:1 and Malachi 1:1
 - i. Malachi is from the same time period
- 2. Judgment of the nations accomplish these things:

- a. Deliver God's people from the oppression of those nations
- b. Prove the impotence of the gods (heavenly powers) ruling those nations
- c. Remove the hostile people from the lands and give them either:
 - i. To other people
 - ii. Back to Israel (land north of Israel, Philistia coast, etc.)
- d. Remove any hope the nations held out to assist Israel. Only the Lord can help.
- e. The defeat of the nations brings the world joy and prepares the world and Israel for peace.
- f. Only YHWH worthy of worship
- g. Nations will turn to YHWH for answers and nations will flow to Jerusalem for answers
- 3. God's word was coming against the following people
- 4. God's word comes to the earth to:
 - a. Doing Good (Micah 2:7)
 - b. Healing (Psalm 107:20)
 - c. Falling on nations to bring judgment (Isaiah 9:8)
 - d. Coming as a destructive fire (Jeremiah 5:14)
 - e. Transforming and shaping future events as the Lord plans (Ezekiel 12:28)
- 5. The enemies of these lands always came from the north, even if the were from the east (Babylon, Assyria) or the west (Greece, Rome)
- 6. The Lord is invading from the north also, but instead of using Assyria, Babylon or Persia he is using Alexander.
- 7. Notice the translation of whose eyes are looking at whom.
 - a. The ESV above says: "For the Lord has an eye on mankind and on all the tribes of Israel."
 - b. But, a better translation is taken from the literal Hebrew text also seen above: "Are on YHWH the eyes of men and all the tribes of Israel."
 - i. This matches:
 - 1. NIV: "for the eyes of all people and all the tribes of Israel are on the LORD"
 - 2. Berean Standard Bible: "for the eyes of men and of all the tribes of Israel are upon the LORD"
 - 3. KJ: "when the eyes of man, as of all the tribes of Israel, shall be toward the LORD."
 - 4. NAS: "for the eyes of mankind, especially of all the tribes of Israel, are toward the LORD"
- 8. These verses describe Alexander's invasion after he defeated the Persians at Issus in 333 BC, and all the eyes of mankind, including the eyes of the Jews, were on Alexander's advance against the Persians, Syria, Tyre and Gaza. All mankind was watching the Lord move through Alexander.
- 9. The eyes of the whole world were watching Alexander's movements. Judah was particularly aware due to:
 - a. Their defeat by Babylon
 - b. Their standing in the Persian Empire
 - c. The prophecies of Daniel

- 10. Only mention of Hadrach is here in the Bible
 - a. thought to have been North of Lebanon.
 - b. Tiglath-Pileser III and other Assyrians identified Hadrach in cunieform texts
 - c. the Assyrian place-name Hatarikka, or Aramean Hazrik
 - d. today it is ancient archaeological site of Tell Afishe in Syria
 - e. Taken by the Hittites in 1350 BC and ruled by Hittite king Hattusili III in the 1200's BC
 - f. In 785 Hadrach was in the Kingdom of Hamath
 - g. Hadrach was mentioned in the basalt Stele of Zakkur as Hazrach. The inscription says Zakkur, the king of Hamath, was besieged by King Ben-Hadad III the son of Hazael and seventeen other kings.
 - h. 28 miles SE of Aleppo
- 11. An interesting note: Matthew Henry, who is an amillennialist, interprets these verses like this:

"When Saint Paul was converted at Damascus, and preached there, and disputed with the Jews, then the word of the Lord might be said to rest there, and then the eyes of men, of other men besides the tribes of Israel, began to be towards the Lord." (Acts 9:22)

9:2 - "and on Hamath also, which borders on it,

Tyre and Sidon, though they are very wise.

1. Hamath

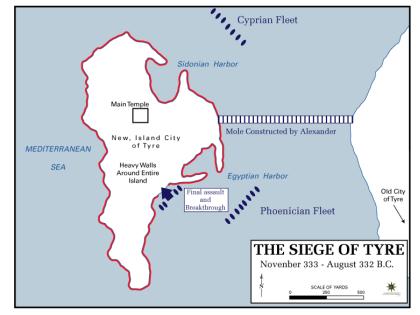

- a. On the Orontes River
- b. A major Syrian city (or, city of Aram)
- c. Hamath was within the limits of the border given to Israel as part of the Promised Land:
 - i. Numbers 13:21
 - ii. Joshua 13:5
 - iii. Judges 3:3
- d. In the future the people of Hamath would turn to the Lord
- 2. Damascus
 - a. Capital of Aram
- 3. Tyre
 - a. Phoenician city
 - b. Trusted physical fortifications
 - c. Trusted stockpiles of silver and gold
 - d. Tyrians had a 150-foot-high wall around the city which stood on an island just off the coast
 - e. Tyre had withstood a five-year siege from the Assyrians. But, from 724-663 BC all the Assyrian kings laid siege to Tyre: Shalmaneser V, Sargon II, Sennacherib, Esarhaddon, Ashurbanipal

- f. Nebuchadnezzar fought against Tyre for 13 years (586-573 BC) and defeated the city on the mainland, but could not reach the city on the island.
 - i. Ezekiel 29:17-21 -

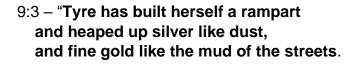

"In the twenty-seventh year, in the first month, on the first day of the month, the word of the Lord came to me: "Son of man, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon made his army labor hard against Tyre. Every head was made bald, and every shoulder was rubbed bare, yet neither he nor his army got anything from Tyre to pay for the labor that he had performed against her. Therefore thus says the Lord God: Behold, I will give the land of Egypt to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; and he shall carry off its wealth and despoil it and plunder it; and it shall be the wages for his army. I have given him the land of Egypt as his payment for which he labored, because they worked for me, declares the Lord God. On that day I will cause a horn to spring up for the house of Israel, and I will open your lips among them. Then they will know that I am the Lord."

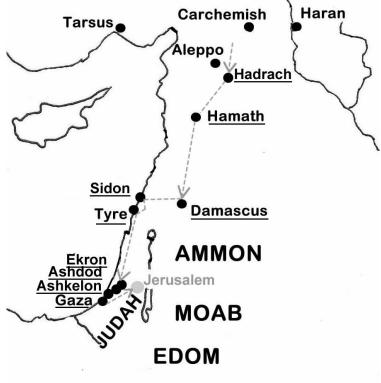

- g. Ezekiel 26:1-14
- h. Alexander destroyed Tyre on the island by building a road or a causeway from the mainland to the island city which was about 0.6 miles (1 km) from the coast. He used the debris of the destroyed mainland city left from Nebuchadnezzar's siege to build the "bridge" out to the island
- Alexander tore down the 150 ft high walls on the eastern, landward facing, side of the island.
- j. Alexander's road of debris was never removed and eventually converted the island into a peninsula as silt from the sea settled alongside of it.

- k. According to the online Britannica article "Fishing remains a major source of income."
- 4. Sidon
 - a. Phoenician city
 - b. Ezekiel 28:20-26

- 1. Alexander did this in 332 BC about 186 years after Zechariah prophesied these words.
- 2. Tyre lost her possessions and piles of gold and silver.
- 3. Tyre was consumed by fire and scraped into the sea.
- 4. "Behold" is used to:
 - a. emphasize the imminence of an action,
 - b. or, to underscore the content in this verse.

- c. Here both are true. This will happen soon and this is the point of this story! Tyre will be brought down after enduring 151 years of siege from the Assyrians and Nebuchadnezzar (724-573), this time it will fall to Alexander in 332 BC (or, 186 years after Zechariah wrote this in 518 BC)!
- 5. "Lord" not "LORD" for the first time in the book of Zechariah God is called adonay "Lord" and not YHWH (LORD)
 - a. This emphasizes his sovereign reign as master and victor in battle.
- 6. "power on the sea" the word "power" is from hayil or helah /khah-yil/ which means "strength, efficiency, wealth, army"
- 9:5 "Ashkelon shall see it, and be afraid; Gaza too, and shall writhe in anguish; Ekron also, because its hopes are confounded.
 The king shall perish from Gaza; Ashkelon shall be uninhabited;

- 1. The Philistine cities would see the fate of Tyre and fear
 - a. Ekron was the closest city to Tyre and feared the most.
 - b. Gath is not mentioned because they fell to Uzziah, king of Judah in 2 Chronicles 26:6 (792-740 BC) and fell to Sargon II in 711 BC (Amos 6:2).
- 2. Alexander was on his way to Egypt
- 3. The Siege of Gaza in 332 BC occurred when Alexander used the same siege engines he had built at Tyre.
 - a. The city of Gaza fell to Alexander on his third assault
 - b. Wikepedia writes:

"One day during the siege, the Gazans made a sortie against enemy siege equipment constructed on site, and Alexander led his shield bearing guards into counterattack. Alexander's shoulder was injured in the attempt. According to Arrian, the rest of the mound was completed shortly after, around the whole of Gaza. At some undefined period after this, the siege equipment from Tyre arrived, and was put into use also. It was after this that major sections of the wall were broken by the Macedonians. After three attempts to enter the city, the Macedonians finally entered the city. The Gazans fought bitterly; at one point, an Arab mercenary pretended to surrender and after being taken to the Macedonian camp, attacked Alexander who suffered a minor injury before the Arab was struck down."

- c. Batis, Persian king Darius III's commander of the fortress of Gaza, controlled the main road that connected Persia to Egypt, and thus, controlled the large area that often rose in revolt
 - i. Batis was aware of Alexander's destruction of Tyre and his march down the Mediterranean coast.
 - ii. Batis prepared Gaza for a long siege when Alexander passed by.
 - iii. Batis refused to surrender and when Gaza fell the men were executed and the women and children sold into slavery.
 - iv. Upon being defeated and captured Batis refused to speak to Alexander and his refused to kneel before Alexander.
 - v. The Roman historian records that Batis was killed when Alexander imitated Achilles' execution of Hector by inserting a rope between Batis's ankle bone and his Achilles tendon and then dragging him alive by chariot around the walls of the city until he died.
- 4. With the defeat of Gaza and the Philistine cities Alexander controlled the Mediterranean coast.
 - a. Alexander could count on Persia being cut off from any Western contact by Sea
 - b. Alexander could attack Egypt without concern of the Persians approaching from the north.
 - c. Once Egypt was taken Persia was isolated and could only fight or retreat into the mountains of other nations.

- 1. After the conquest of the Pagan nations to the north and west the Lord turns and encamps at his "house" which refers to "the Temple" or "Jerusalem" or "Judah" or "the people of Israel". All of these would be correct.
 - a. The Lord guards his house
 - b. The Lord establishes peace in his house
 - c. No military approaches his house
- 2. The text says "no oppressor shall again march over them"

- a. This could refer to a temporary state until the rise of the Seleucid Empire in Syria
- b. This could refer to the ultimate fulfillment at the coming of the Kingdom, but Alexander provides a temporary type of this peace.
- 3. "oppressor" is from noges means "to press, drive, oppress, exact" and is used of:
 - a. "tyrant" (Isaiah 9"3),
 - b. "donkey driver" (Job 39:7),
 - c. "one who exacts tribute" (Daniel 11:20)
- 4. Alexander approached Jerusalem, but did not attack or destroy it. Alexander worshipped in the Jerusalem temple as a Gentile worshipper of YHWH.
- 5. Josephus reports that Alexander had a dream, met with the priest, worshipped in the temple and decided to spare Jerusalem:

[11.317] So when Alexander besieged Tyre, he sent an epistle to the Jewish high-priest, to send him some auxiliaries, and to supply his army with provisions; and that what presents he formerly sent to Darius, he would now send to him, and choose the friendship of the Macedonians, and that he should never repent of so doing.

[11.318] But the high-priest answered the messengers, that he had given his oath to Darius not to bear arms against him; and he said that he would not transgress this while Darius was in the land of the living. Upon hearing this answer, Alexander was very angry;

[11.319] and though he determined not to leave Tyre, which was just ready to be taken, yet as soon as he had taken it, he threatened that he would make an expedition against the Jewish high-priest, and through him teach all men to whom they must keep their oaths.

[11.320] So when he had, with a good deal of pains during the siege, taken Tyre, and had settled its affairs, he came to the city of Gaza, and besieged both the city and him that was governor of the garrison, whose name was Babemeses.

[11.321] But Sanballat thought he had now gotten a proper opportunity to make his attempt, so he renounced Darius, and taking with him seven thousands of his own subjects, he came to Alexander; and finding him beginning the siege of Tyre, he said to him, that he delivered up to him these men, who came out of places under his dominion, and did gladly accept of him for his lord instead of Darius.

[11.322] So when Alexander had received him kindly, Sanballat took courage, and spoke to him about his present affair. He told him that he had a son-in-law, Manasseh, who was brother to the high-priest Jaddus); and that there were many others of his own nation, now with him, that were desirous to have a temple in the places subject to him;

[11.323] that it would be for the king's advantage to have the strength of the Jews divided into two parts, lest when the nation is of one mind, and united, upon any attempt for innovation, it prove troublesome to kings, as it had formerly proved to the kings of Assyria.

[11.324] Whereupon Alexander gave Sanballat leave so to do, who used the utmost diligence, and built the temple, and made Manasseh the priest, and deemed it a great reward that his daughter's children should have that dignity;

[11.325] but when the seven months of the siege of Tyre were over, and the two months of the siege of Gaza, Sanballat died.

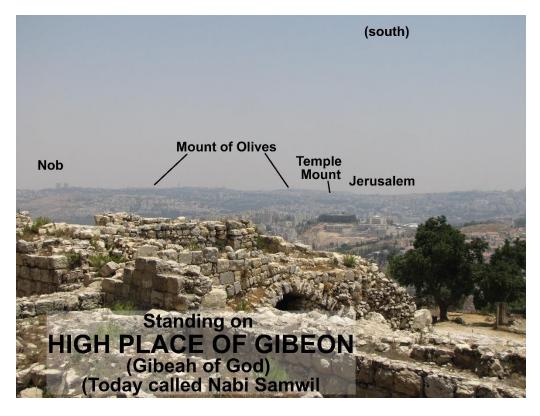

Now Alexander, when he had taken Gaza, made haste to go up to Jerusalem;

[11.326] and Jaddus (or, Jaddua) the high-priest, when he heard that, was in an agony, and under terror, as not knowing how he should meet the Macedonians, since the king was displeased at his foregoing disobedience. He therefore ordained that the people should make supplications, and should join with him in offering sacrifice to God, whom he besought to protect that nation, and to deliver them from the perils that were coming upon them;

[11.327] whereupon God warned him in a dream, which came upon him after he had offered sacrifice, that he should take courage, and adorn the city, and open the gates; that the rest should appear in white garments, but that he and the priests should meet the king in the habits proper to their order, without the dread of any ill consequences, which the providence of God would prevent.

[11.328] Upon which, when he rose from his sleep, he greatly rejoiced, and declared to all the warning he had received from God. According to which dream he acted entirely, and so waited for the coming of the king.

[11.329] And when Jaddus (or, Jaddua) understood that Alexander was not far from the city, he went out in procession, with the priests and the multitude of the citizens. The procession was venerable, and the manner of it different from that of other nations. It reached to a place called Sapha, which name, translated into Greek, signifies a prospect, for you have thence a prospect both of Jerusalem and of the temple.

[11.330] And when the Phoenicians and the Samarians that followed him thought they should have liberty to plunder the city, and torment the high-priest to death, which the king's displeasure fairly promised them, the very reverse of it happened;

[11.331] for Alexander, when he saw the multitude at a distance, in white garments, while the priests stood clothed with fine linen, and the high-priest in purple and scarlet clothing, with his mitre on his head, having the golden plate whereon the name of God was engraved, he approached by himself, and adored that name, and first saluted the high-priest.

[11.332] The Jews also did all together, with one voice, salute Alexander, and encompass him about; whereupon the kings of Syria and the rest were surprised at what Alexander had done, and supposed him disordered in his mind.

[11.333] However, Parmenion alone went up to him, and asked him how it came to pass that, when all others adored him, he should adore the high-priest of the Jews? To whom he replied, "I did not adore him, but that God who has honored him with his highpriesthood;

[11.334] for I saw this very person in a dream, in this very habit, when I was at Dion in Macedonia, who, when I was considering with myself how I might obtain the dominion of Asia, exhorted me to make no delay, but boldly to pass over the sea thither, for that he would conduct my army, and would give me the dominion over the Persians;

[11.335] whence it is that, having seen no other in that habit, and now seeing this person in it, and remembering that vision, and the exhortation which I had in my dream, I believe that I bring this army under the Divine conduct, and shall therewith conquer Darius, and destroy the power of the Persians, and that all things will succeed according to what is in my own mind."

[11.336] And when he had said this to Parmenion, and had given the high-priest his right hand, the priests ran along by him, and he came into the city. And when he went up into the temple, he offered sacrifice to God, according to the high-priest's direction, and magnificently treated both the high-priest and the priests.

[11.337] And when the Book of Daniel was showed him wherein Daniel declared that one of the Greeks should destroy the empire of the Persians, he supposed that himself was the person intended. (Note: Daniel 7:6; 8:3-8, 20-22; 11:3) And as he was then glad, he dismissed the multitude for the present.

But the next day he called them to him, and bid them ask what favors they pleased of him;

[11.338] whereupon the high-priest desired that they might enjoy the laws of their forefathers, and might pay no tribute on the seventh year. He granted all they desired. And when they asked him that he would permit the Jews in Babylon and Media to enjoy their own laws also, he willingly promised to do hereafter what they desired.

[1.339] And when he said to the multitude, that if any of them would enlist themselves in his army, on this condition, that they should continue under the laws of their forefathers, and live according to them, he was willing to take them with him, many were ready to accompany him in his wars.

[11.340] So when Alexander had thus settled matters at Jerusalem, he led his army into the neighboring cities; and when all the inhabitants to whom he came received him with great kindness, the Samaritans, who had then Shechem for their metropolis - a city situate at Mount Gerizim, and inhabited by apostates of the Jewish nation - seeing that Alexander had so greatly honored the Jews, determined to profess themselves Jews.

[11.341] for such is the disposition of the Samaritans, as we have already elsewhere declared, that when the Jews are in adversity, they deny that they are of kin to them, and then they confess the truth; but when they perceive that some good fortune hath befallen them, they immediately pretend to have communion with them, saying that they belong to them, and derive their genealogy from the posterity of Joseph, Ephraim, and Manasseh.

[11.342] Accordingly, they made their address to the king with splendor, and showed great alacrity in meeting him at a little distance from Jerusalem. And when Alexander had commended them, the Shechemites approached to him, taking with them the troops that Sanballat had sent him, and they desired that he would come to their city, and do honor to their temple also;

[11.343] to whom he promised, that when he returned he would come to them. And when they petitioned that he would remit the tribute of the seventh year to them, because they did but sow thereon, he asked who they were that made such a petition;

[11.344] and when they said that they were Hebrews, but had the name of Sidonians, living at Shechem, he asked them again whether they were Jews; and when they said they were not Jews, "It was to the Jews," said he, "that I granted that privilege; however, when I return, and am thoroughly informed by you of this matter, I will do what I shall think proper."

[11.345] And in this manner he took leave of the Shechemites; but ordered that the troops of Sanballat should follow him into Egypt, because there he designed to give them lands, which he did a little after in Thesis, when he ordered them to guard that country.

(The Samaritans sent 8,000 troops with Alexander into Egypt, but while he was gone the Samaritans killed their newly appointed governor, Andromachus. When Alexander returned, he destroyed the city of Samaria and set up a garrison of 600 troops there. The Samaritans fled Samaria to the base of Mt. Gerizim and Mt. Ebal. In 331 BC they rebuilt the city of Shechem there.)

In 30 AD (300 years after Alexander came from the north on a horse) Jesus would ride on a donkey, the foal of a donkey, from over the Mount of Olives into Jerusalem through the Eastern Gate in Jerusalem's eastern wall.

9:9 – "Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion! Shout aloud, O daughter of Jerusalem!
Behold, your king is coming to you; righteous and having salvation is he, humble and mounted on a donkey, on a colt, the foal of a donkey.

1. 9:9 describes the character of the coming King.

9:10 presents the king's accomplishments when he comes.

- 2. The first Coming of Christ is 9:9 and the Second Coming of Christ is 9:10.
 - a. The whole church age occurs between Zechariah 9:9 and 9:10
 - b. This is the same thing that occurs between Isaiah 9:6 and 9:7
 - c. The Gospels clearly identify Jesus as having fulfilled Zechariah 9:9
 - d. The Gospels never claim Jesus fulfilled 9:10 during his earthly ministry
 - e. The New Testament is based in the anticipation and hope that Jesus will fulfill 9:10
- 3. Israel's king will come:
 - a. Being Righteous (Just)...not oppressive, lawless or showing favoritism
 - b. Having Salvation...not captivity, destruction, or death
 - c. Humble...not proud, boastful or rebellious
- 4. "Rejoice greatly" gili me'od is an imperative commanding the reader or the one who hears this message to obey with rejoicing.
- 5. "Shout" or "shout in triumph" is the Hebrew rua /roo-ah/ meaning "to raise a shout" and "give a blast" (Here it is Hiph written ha-ri-i) which is used for these in Scripture:
 - a. Shouting affirmation for a king "And Samuel said to all the people, "Do you see him whom the Lord has chosen? There is none like him among all the people." And all the people shouted, "Long live the king!" (1 Samuel 10:24)
 - b. Crying out in liturgy "And all the people shouted with a great shout when they praised the Lord, because the foundation of the house of the Lord was laid... so that the people could not distinguish the sound of the joyful shout from the sound of the people's weeping, for the people shouted with a great shout, and the sound was heard far away." (Ezra 3:11, 13)
 - c. War cry "When they make a long blast with the ram's horn, when you hear the sound of the trumpet, then all the people shall shout with a great shout, and the wall of the city will fall down flat, and the people shall go up, everyone straight before him." (Joshua 6:5, 10, 16, 20 and more)
 - d. Cry of military defeat "Every man stood in his place around the camp, and all the army ran. They cried out and fled." (Judges 7:21)

- e. Shout of military triumph "By this I know that you delight in me: my enemy will not shout in triumph over me. But you have upheld me because of my integrity, and set me in your presence forever." (Ps. 41:11)
- 6. The context of the shout is #e above of shouting out in military triumph like Psalm 41:21
- 7. The people of Judah and the Israelites are identified with the city of Jerusalem as:
 - a. "Daughter of Zion"
 - b. "Daughter of Jerusalem"
- 8. lak, as in "your king is coming lak" in the Hebrew can be translated "to you" or "for your benefit"
 - a. "Daughter your king is coming to you"
 - b. "Daughter your king is coming for your benefit"
 - c. Soon the king would be coming to the people of Jerusalem for the benefit of the people of Jerusalem.
- 9. The city of Jerusalem or "Daughter" matches the many examples of a city (female) receiving news from the military battle front that their men, their king, their side, their city has been victorious in battle. So, this is arrival on a donkey is the result of a military victory!
 - a. Typically, the winning side would respond with joyful songs. Usually, the women would sing since they were the once delivered from defeat by the men doing the fighting.
 - b. The opposite would be true if their male protectors (husbands, sons, fathers) had been defeated. The women would have met the news of defeat and their coming enslavement with funeral dirges.
 - i. Lamentation 1:1-2 "How lonely sits the city that was full of people! How like a widow has she become, she who was great among the nations! She who was a princess among the provinces has become a slave. She weeps bitterly in the night, with tears on her cheeks; among all her lovers she has none to comfort her; all her friends have dealt treacherously with her; they have become her enemies."
 - ii. 2 Samuel 1:24 "You daughters of Israel, weep over Saul, who clothed you luxuriously in scarlet, who put ornaments of gold on your apparel."
 - iii. Jeremiah 9:17-18, 20 "Thus says the LORD of hosts: "Consider, and call for the mourning women to come; send for the skillful women to come; let them make haste and raise a wailing over us, that our eyes may run down with tears and our eyelids flow with water....Hear, O women, the word of the LORD, and let your ear receive the word of his mouth; teach to your daughters a lament, and each to her neighbor a dirge.
 - iv. Ezekiel 32:16 "This is a lamentation that shall be chanted; the daughters of the nations shall chant it; over Egypt, and over all her multitude, shall they chant it, declares the Lord GOD."
 - v. Nahum 2:7 referring to Nineveh's fall: "its mistress is stripped; she is carried off, her slave girls lamenting, moaning like doves and beating their breasts."
 - c. The "Daughter of Zion", the "Daughter of Jerusalem" is told here they will receive Good news of military victory won by the Divine Warrior YHWH having defeated the enemies of Jerusalem (seen here in 9:1-8)
 - d. Jesus words to the women crying for him a week later after 9:9 was fulfilled must also be considered here since he uses the phrase "Daughters of Jerusalem":
 "But turning to them Jesus said, "Daughters of Jerusalem, do not weep for me, but weep for yourselves and for your children." (Luke 23:28)

- 10. "Your king"
 - a. "your king" refers to YHWH who was marching through Syria, Phoenicia and Philistia in 9:1-8 as Alexander the Great.
 - b. Alexander did march to Jerusalem, but on a horse.
 - c. 9:9 is clearly interpreted to be Jesus who himself had defeated the demonic opposition for 3 years and "marched" to Jerusalem from the north coming from Caesarea Philippi in Syria for Palm Sunday.
 - d. YHWH (God) is speaking in 9:9 saying "your king (man) is saved"
 - i. Both divine YHWH saving the royal king
 - ii. And, the human royal Son of David is saved by YHWH
 - 1. The humble king that needs saved by God
 - 2. Psalm 72 -

"Give the king your justice, O God, and your righteousness to the royal son! May he judge your people with righteousness, and your poor with justice! Let the mountains bear prosperity for the people, and the hills, in righteousness! May he defend the cause of the poor of the people, give deliverance to the children of the needy, and crush the oppressor!" (Psalm 72:1-4)

- e. YHWH is king in Zechariah 14:9 and Zephaniah 3:14-15 (see below point iii) and clearly Zechariah 9:1-8 describes YHWH as coming, but here (9:9) YHWH is introducing the king from the line of David that he has anointed to rule for him.
 - i. YHWH and David are not the same, but YHWH anoints and protects King David and all of the kings from David who sat on David's throne.
 - ii. Jesus will be both YHWH and a son of David. So. God is introducing the human king, but the human king is Jesus the Messiah, the Lord Jesus Christ.
 - iii. Zephaniah 3:14-15 "Sing aloud, O daughter of Zion; shout, O Israel! Rejoice and exult with all your heart. O daughter of Jerusalem! The Lord has taken away the judgments against you; he has cleared away your enemies. The King of Israel, the Lord, is in your midst; you shall never again fear evil."

- 11. The king will come to you or with the benefit for you:
 - a. ONE: Saddiq "righteous" or "just"
 - i. The opposite of evil (rasa)
 - b. TWO: Nosa "having salvation" or bringing salvation to the people
 - i. Passive verb as in "having salvation", so the king receives salvation for himself

Adv Adj-ms V-Qal-Imperf-2fs Adv-NegPrt Prep-b | N-msc | 2fs

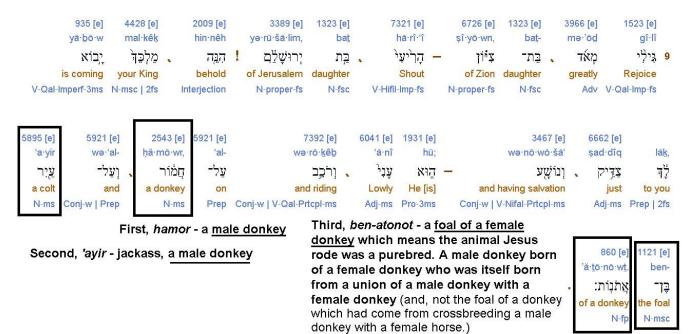

N-proper-ms

- ii. Reflexive as in "manifesting himself as a savior", so by his own strength he saved himself.
- iii. In either case the Messiah comes and is saved as the servant of the Lord
- iv. NICOT for Book of Zechariah writes in footnotes for "saved" the following: "MT nosa is a Niphal ptcp., whil OG has sozon (pres. Act. Ptcp.), the latter suggesting an underlying Hebrew text with a Hiphil ptcp. (mosia). IBHS 37.4.d notes that 'the participles of the reflexive or passive stems, especially the Niphal, correspond occasionally to an English -ible or -able term or a Latin gerundive,' offering nora ("feared, terrible"), nehmad ("desirable") as examples. IBHS, 620.n.35 (rev. digital version, Logos Bible Program) notes the ptcp. Here in 9:9 as possibly having the sense of "saveable, (worthy) of being saved."...The MT reading is the more difficult reading here, as one might expect this picture of the returning king to highlight his "saving" quality, as does the OG. Instead, the one who comes is one who has experienced the rescue of Yahweh, which does fit with the broader royal theological emphasis on the reliance of the human royal figure on Yahweh, made explicit in 9:10."
- c. Isaiah combines "righteous" and "salvation" in these verses also:
 - Isaiah 45:8 "You heavens above, rain down my righteousness; let the clouds shower it down. Let the earth open wide, let salvation spring up, let righteousness flourish with it; I, the Lord, have created it."
 - ii. Isaiah 46:13 "I am bringing my righteousness near, it is not far away; and my salvation will not be delayed. I will grant salvation to Zion, my splendor to Israel.
 - iii. Isaiah 51:4-5 "Listen to me, my people; hear me, my nation: Instruction will go out from me; my justice will become a light to the nations. My righteousness draws near speedily, my salvation is on the way, and my arm will bring justice to the nations. The islands will look to me and wait in hope for my arm."

- iv. Also, 1 Peter 3:18 "For Christ also suffered once for sins, the righteous for the unrighteous, to bring you to God. He was put to death in the body but made alive in the Spirit.
- d. THREE: Ani means "poor, afflicted, humble" and is translated as "humble" or "lowly" or "gentle"
 - i. The person who is in a "humble", or ani, condition is poor, without adequate resources and dependent on others.
 - ii. The opposite would be arrogant with haughty eyes
 - iii. The idea here matches the suffering servant
 - iv. Isaiah 53:2-3 "He grew up before him like a tender shoot, and like a root out of dry ground. He had no beauty or majesty to attract us to him, nothing in his appearance that we should desire him. He was despised and rejected by mankind, a man of suffering, and familiar with pain. Like one from whom people hide their faces he was despised, and we held him in low esteem."
 - v. This king would be totally reliant on YHWH and in total submission, stricken in spirit and trembling before YHWH's word as in Isaiah 66:2 "this is the one to whom I will look: he who is humble and contrite in spirit and trembles at my word."
 - vi. The king (man) that YHWH wants ruling his people is one who looks to YHWH and trusts in YHWH for military ability and wisdom to lead.
 - 1. Saul is an example of what this is not.
 - a. Consider1 Samuel 8:20 "that we also may be like all the nations, and that our king may judge us and go out before us and fight our battles."
 - b. 1 Samuel 9:2 "he had a son whose name was Saul, a handsome young man. There was not a man among the people of Israel more handsome than he. From his shoulders upward he was taller than any of the people."
 - 2. David is an example of what this is.
 - a. Consider David being chosen instead of his brothers (1 Samuel 16:1-13)
 - b. Consider David vs Goliath: David rejects wearing the armor of Saul and instead says to Goliath, "I come to you in the name of the Lord of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel, whom you have defied." (1 Samuel 17:45)
 - c. Consider David's battle plans: "And David inquired of the Lord, "Shall I go up against the Philistines? Will you give them into my hand?" And the Lord said to David, "Go up, for I will certainly give the Philistines into your hand."(2 Samuel 5:18)
 - vii. The leader or king of YHWH's Israel is the royal man that is saved by YHWH. This king will be humble and be delivered from his enemies by YHWH, not by his own strength.
- 12. "Donkey" is identified as "a colt, the foal of a donkey" which identifies this animal a purebred and not a mule (a hybrid of a male donkey and a horse).

- a. Donkeys (some translations "ass", which is the same thing as "donkey"), or purebreds, where the mounts rode by royalty
 - Judges 5:10 "Tell of it, you who ride on white donkeys (the wealthy, elite, ruling class), you who sit on rich carpets and you who walk by the way (the working, middle class)."
 - ii. Judges 10:4 "And he (Israel's Judge Jair the Gileadite) had thirty sons who rode on thirty donkeys, and they had thirty cities, called Havvoth-jair to this day, which are in the land of Gilead.
 - iii. Judges 12:14 "He (Abdon son of Hillel, from Pirathon) had forty sons and thirty grandsons, who rode on seventy donkeys, and he judged Israel eight years.
- b. Mules are a domestic hybrid between a donkey and a horse. A mule is the offspring of a male donkey and a female horse. Since a mule is crossbred and since crossbreeding was prohibited in Israel (Lev 19:19), mules were likely imported. Once Israel started importing with the success of David, and even more during the reign of Solomon, these mules became more valuable and replaced donkeys for the wealthy, royals and elite:
 - 1 Kings 10:24-26 Solomon began to import crossbred mules since it was against the Law to crossbreed: "The whole world sought an audience with Solomon to hear the wisdom that God had put in his heart. Year after year, each visitor would bring his tribute: articles of silver and gold, clothing, weapons, spices, horses, and mules. Solomon accumulated 1,400 chariots and 12,000 horses, which he stationed in the chariot cities and also with him in Jerusalem."
 - ii. 2 Samuel 13:29 "So the servants of Absalom did to Amnon as Absalom had commanded. Then all the king's sons arose, and each mounted his mule and fled."
 - iii. 2 Samuel 16:2 Mephibosheth's (Saul's grandson and Jonathan's son; Saul was king before the mule replaced the status of the donkey) servant Ziba brought supplies to King David when he was a fugitive running from his son Absolom: "And the king said to Ziba, "Why have you brought these?" Ziba answered, "The donkeys are for the king's household to ride on, the bread and summer fruit for the young men to eat, and the wine for those who faint in the wilderness to drink."
 - iv. 2 Samuel 18:9 "Absalom was riding on his mule, and the mule went under the thick branches of a great oak, and his head caught fast in the oak, and he was suspended between heaven and earth, while the mule that was under him went on."
 - v. 1 Kings 1:32-34 "Then King David said, "Call in for me Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah son of Jehoiada." So they came before the king. "Take my servants with you," said the king. "Set my son Solomon on my own mule and take him down to Gihon. There Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet are to anoint him king over Israel. You are to blow the ram's horn and declare, 'Long live King Solomon!"
- c. The real difference in the context of Zechariah is the donkey is not a horse.
 - i. Ruling royalty rode on donkeys and mules. Donkeys (and mules) were the ride of royalty when they ruled kingdoms at peace.
 - ii. Obedient, law-abiding Jewish royalty would ride on donkeys.
 - iii. Conquerors would ride on horses. Horses were the animal of war.
 - iv. Donkey is royalty in peace; Horse is royalty at war.

- d. The terms used to describe the animal the king is riding are a series that move from general terms to specific terms:
 - i. Hamor a male donkey
 - ii. Ayir a male donkey
 - iii. Ben--a foal
 - iv. Atonot a female donkey
- e. The king was to ride a purebred donkey. The king was to ride a male donkey which was a male donkey born from a female donkey who had been bred from male and female donkeys, and this female donkey would itself be bred with another donkey to produce the male donkey the king would ride.
 - i. The king would be riding a purebred donkey bred from purebred donkeys.
 - ii. The king would not be riding a mule bred from a male donkey and a female horse.
 - iii. Neither would the king be riding a male donkey bred from a female donkey who it self was the offspring of a male donkey and a female horse.)

- 13. Jesus fulfilled Zechariah 9:9 according to Matthew and John:
 - a. Matthew 21:1-6 "Now when they drew near to Jerusalem and came to Bethphage, to the Mount of Olives, then Jesus sent two disciples, saying to them, "Go into the village in front of you, and immediately you will find a donkey tied, and a colt with her. Untie them and bring them to me. If anyone says anything to you, you shall say, 'The Lord needs them,' and he will send them at once." This took place to fulfill what was spoken by the prophet, saying,

"Say to the daughter of Zion, 'Behold, your king is coming to you, humble, and mounted on a donkey, on a colt, the foal of a beast of burden.""

The disciples went and did as Jesus had directed them. They brought the donkey and the colt and put on them their cloaks, and he sat on them."

- i. Notice the "donkey" Jesus rides is NOT the foal of a horse, but the "foal of a beast of burden" or a "donkey"
- ii. Jesus was in no way riding a horse or a foal of a horse.
- iii. Jesus came as ruling royalty in peace to a kingdom at peace.
- iv. Jesus did not come as royalty at war to a kingdom at war.
- b. John 12:12-16 "The next day the large crowd that had come to the feast heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem. So they took branches of palm trees and went out to meet him, crying out, "Hosanna! Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord, even the King of Israel!" And Jesus found a young donkey and sat on it, just as it is written,

"Fear not, daughter of Zion; behold, your king is coming, sitting on a donkey's colt!"

His disciples did not understand these things at first, but when Jesus was glorified, then they remembered that these things had been written about him and had been done to him."

- i. Notice, the crowd goes out to meet Jesus like Jadua, the priests and the people went out to meet Alexander the Great.
- ii. Alexander was meet at the high place overlooking the city and the Temple to the north of Jerusalem. Jesus was meet by the people as he came from the east from the high place overlooking the city and the Temple (from Bethphage over the Mount of Olives.)
- iii. The disciples did not immediately make a connection, or at least did not understand the difference between the donkey and the conquering Messiah with the verses in the book of Zechariah. If the disciples were thinking of a revolt they should at least had taken note that Jesus was not riding a war horse, but instead a donkey.
- 14. Jesus does not ride a horse to fulfill Zechariah 9:10 until Revelation 19:11-16:
 - a. Revelation 19:11-16 "Then I saw heaven opened, and behold, a white horse! The one sitting on it is called Faithful and True, and in righteousness he judges and makes war. His eyes are like a flame of fire, and on his head are many diadems, and he has a name written that no one knows but himself. He is clothed in a robe dipped in blood, and the name by which he is called is The Word of God. And the armies of heaven, arrayed in fine linen, white and pure, were following him on white horses. From his mouth comes a sharp sword with which to strike down the nations, and he will rule them with a rod of iron. He will tread the winepress of the fury of the wrath of God the Almighty. On his robe and on his thigh he has a name written, King of kings and Lord of lords."
 - i. This is when Zechariah 9:10 is fulfilled.
 - ii. Verse 9:9 and 9:10 are remarkably different.
 - iii. Palm Sunday and the Second Coming are also remarkably different.
 - b. Without the Gospels and the New Testament we would like the disciples be unable to see the stark difference between 9:9 and 9:10.
- 15. In the first century many Jewish sects, including the Qumran community, anticipated two different Messiah's
