Voter Fraud & the Biden Presidency

There's obviously bad news with an upcoming Biden presidency, but is there any good news? Possibly. Before we get into that, let's recap what has transpired in the past 24 hours or so.

Congress gathered to determine whether or not to accept the electoral college votes as they are now. Several GOP elected officials objected to the validity of the votes. In fact, Democrats have done the same thing before.

The last three times a Republican has been elected president — Trump in 2016 and George W. Bush in both 2000 and 2004 — Democrats in the House have brought objections to the electoral votes in states the GOP nominee won. In early 2005 specifically, Sen. Barbara Boxer, D-Calif., along with Rep. Stephanie Tubbs, D-Ohio, objected to Bush's 2004 electoral votes in Ohio.[1]

What Did you say?
A Matter of the Constitution

ELECTORAL EXPLANATION

There are 3,141 counties in the United State
Trump won 3,084 of them.
Clinton won 57.

There are 62 counties in New York State.
Trump won 46 of them.
Clinton won 16.

Clinton won the popular vote by approx. 1.5 million votes.
In the 5 counties that encompass NYC, (Bronx, Brooklyn, Manhattan, Richmond & Queens) Clinton received well over 2 million more votes than Trump. (Clinton only won 4 of these counties, Trump won Richmond)

Therefore these 5 counties alone, more than accounted for Clinton winning the popular vote of the entire country.
These 5 counties comprise 319 square miles.
The United States is comprised of 3, 797,000 square miles.
When you have a country that encompasses almost 4 million square miles of territory, it would be ludicrous to even suggest that the vote of those that encompass a mere 319 square miles should dictate the outcome of a national election.

It can be part of a legitimate process and is part of the checks and balances built into the Constitution. However, now that the GOP have done this, Democrats and world leaders are calling it an outrage because it tears at the fabric of our “democracy.” Of course, the United States is not a democracy, but a Constitutional Republic. Shhh...don't tell the Left this because they will dutifully ignore it and there is a huge difference between a democracy and a Constitutional Republic. The main problem with a democracy is that it only requires 51% of the vote to remove all the rights of the other 49%. “The Constitution provides protections against the tyranny of the majority and one of those protections is against pure democracy.” [2]

With the Electoral College, it keeps the USA from being bullied by just several large areas. In other words, without the Electoral College, the areas with large Dem or GOP would hold sway over the entire country. The image provides a concise explanation of why the Electoral College is so important and created by our Founders.

However, since it is clear (though vehemently denied), that voter fraud was used to gain control of the general and runoff elections, it doesn't matter at this point. In fact, the Left has successfully gained control of the voting system and will not likely give it up. They have gained control so the Electoral College is moot at this point. Of course, the Electoral College only comes into play when voting for the President of the United States.

We can expect a number of things to take place once the Democrat majority of Congress is seated. Who knows what order these things will be accomplished, but they most likely will be accomplished:

- eliminate filibuster
- eliminate Electoral College
- rework ACA
- raise taxes severely
- create more laws that will restrict free speech
- more gun control laws working toward eliminating private ownership
- reparations for blacks
- Universal Basic Income (UBI)

The above are just some of the things that will occur and again, in what order? Who knows, but it will be important for Congress to do whatever they can to severely limit or eliminate God-given rights recognized by the Constitution in order for the government to gain more control over society and its movements.

I'm always amazed when I see yard signs for radical Leftists who will raise taxes and chip away at people's rights. They seem to think that people will welcome these things and in fact, many will, because they do not truly believe they will be directly affected. It'll be the "rich" they think who's taxes will be raised. It'll be those pesky conservatives who's voices will be reduced. It won't affect them.

Moreover, too many people today actually want the government to take care of them. They like it when the government sends them "free" money. That's what they want. I've talked to business owners in my area who bemoan the fact that they cannot get good help even if they offer to pay them $15 or 20 per hour. People are more interested in staying home and receiving government support. They literally do not want to work.

All of this will segue into a system of socialism whereby people are simply presented with a "paycheck" regardless of what they do or how many hours they work. Under socialism, there is truly no incentive. When we went to Europe a number of years ago, I made it a point to talk with people who were living under Socialism. They said there was no way they could get ahead. The system worked against them and these were people who owned their own businesses and wanted to get ahead to provide for their families. No matter what they did or how hard they worked, it simply couldn't be done. That system is coming to America and Leftists will applaud it.

What boggles my mind a bit are those who are calling for everyone to simply move ahead with resolve. The problem of course is that due to the amount of voter fraud which occurred, the Left has gained a stranglehold over the voting system. Too many anomalies. Too many questions. Too many loopholes and all need to be addressed. Until they are, we can vote in MASSIVE numbers and still lose because of the amount of voter fraud that occurred.

Covid-19

Okay, so is anything good coming? Could be. Under a Biden presidency, it appears that Covid-19 will all but disappear in a matter of a few months following his inauguration. How do we know this? We know it because of remarks made by Dr. Fauci and the CDC back in November and more recently, the FDA which has come out in agreement with Fauci and CDC.

It has to do with the PCR tests being used to highlight a positive infection for CV-19. Zero Hedge explains it all very well. It all comes down to the fact that it has to do with the “cycle thresholds” (Ct) used to determine whether or not a sample of CV-19 actually exists. Other medical professionals argue that the PCR (polymerase chain reaction), tests are incapable of detecting actual CV-19 because they’ve not yet isolated that particular virion. That aside, the Ct currently used to determine the presence of CV-19 is a rather high number, something like 35 Cts or greater. Because of this, over 70% of people tested come back as testing “positive” for CV-19. However, as the article states, if they used 30 Ct instead of 35 Ct, about 70% of those would no longer be considered positive. There is plenty of detail in the article, so I’d recommend reading it thoroughly.

The point is that as the Ct number is lowered, the number of positive cases also goes lower. When the Ct number is kept higher, the number of positive cases also goes higher.

A new study from the Infectious Diseases Society of America, found that at 25 cycles of amplification, 70% of PCR test “positives” are not “cases” since the virus cannot be cultured, it’s dead. And by 35: 97% of the positives are non-clinical.

PCR is not testing for disease, it’s testing for a specific RNA pattern and this is the key pivot. When you crank it up to 25, 70% of the positive results are not really “positives” in any clinical sense, since it cannot make you or anyone else sick

Once again, this is NOT to say that CV-19 is not a real illness. I’ve always said that it was and is real. However, I’ve also believed that they’ve made a mountain out of a molehill in order to accomplish something. What was that? I talked about that in a previous article.

Have people died from CV-19? Sadly, yes, of course they have. Over 60,000 people alone died in the state of New York. But let’s also remember a great preponderance of those individuals were elderly and infirm and died from coming in contact with younger people infected with CV-19 and who were sent to nursing homes for care. Gov. Cuomo was not the only governor to do this either. Thousands upon thousands of elderly died needlessly because of certain governors who made the decision to simply house CV-19 patients in nursing homes saying that hospitals were overwhelmed, which clearly turned out not to be the case. But Gov. Cuomo has his Grammy, so there’s that.

But because of the newly released information surrounding Ct threshold of the PCR tests, countries like Portugal have ruled that the PCR testing is not a reliable method “therefore any enforced quarantine based on those test results is unlawful.”

So what’s the point here? It may very well be that once Biden takes office, after a “national lock down,” which he as president will have no authority to invoke, just President Trump had no authority to invoke or to force states to “open” up, the CV-19 pandemic will suddenly disappear. Biden will be seen as the hero and life will regain some sense of normalcy. But what will have actually happened? The experts will simply have lowered the Ct threshold from 37+ to somewhere between 15 – 20 and voila! No more CV-19!! Whoo hoo! However, people will most likely continue wearing masks because they are in the habit of doing so and because they believe the fear-mongering created by the MSM.

The problem of course, is that neither the MSM, elected officials nor the go-to medical experts will actually emphasize this having been done. They will simply do this quietly as the FDA has already indicated by questioning the current method and going along with the CDC and Fauci. They will not necessarily tell us that they have lowered the Ct for the testing (and don't expect MSM to tell us), and will then crown President Biden the hero in this whole pandemic, saying if only Trump had done what Biden did, the pandemic would've been over a long time ago. Trump actually DID recommend that everything shut down for 15 days to flatten the curve. But he could not force governors to do that and he could not force governors to reopen their states either. POTUS does not have that constitutional authority at all.

Read the article linked above and see if it makes sense to you. It's all about the numbers game and the current number of "cases" is based solely on the Ct threshold, not to mention the fact that we are now in flu season that happens every year at this time, starting normally in October. Of course, the medical experts have forewarned us that the flu (which can kill 60,000 to 80,000 people or more annually), is non-existent this year and everything is labeled CV-19.

There will likely be some respite here and there as we move forward, but overall, the final Gentile kingdom from Daniel 2 is being built and it has actually come out into the open. In the end, Satan's spiritual son Antichrist, will head up that system and seek to gather all of humanity to his side in a last ditch effort to thwart God's plans and keep Jesus from physically returning to this planet. That won't happen and what I find fascinating in the last few chapters of Revelation is that while the saints accompany Jesus in His physical return, they have not one weapon among them. Jesus leads the way and deals with His enemies with a word from His mouth. He does all the fighting.

Other News

British scientists are developing the first world's "smart patch." We knew this was coming because of things Bill Gates has stated previously.

Using polycarbonate or silicon millimetre-long microneedles, the smart patch can penetrate the skin to administer a vaccine. It can be held in place with a strap or tape for up to 24 hours, during which time it simultaneously measures a patient's inflammatory response to the vaccination by monitoring biomarkers in the skin.

Once the vaccine has been administered, the device is scanned to produce a data reading that can provide an understanding about the efficacy of the vaccine and the body's response to it.

Neato! Right? Clearly, all of these new inventions related to CV-19 will ultimately provide the way for the Beast/False Prophet to force people to receive the "mark" (whatever it ultimately will be), during the coming Tribulation and all who do not, will be executed as enemies of the state. I'm of the opinion that the smart patch, vaccine or whatever it will be when the mark is issued will only be part of the mark itself. That actual mark will have something to do with Antichrist's name and since we do not know who he is since he's not publicly on the scene yet, it's pointless to try and do what many others have done by guessing who fits the bill.

The article continues by stating, “This low-cost vaccine administration device will ensure a safe return to work and management of subsequent Covid-19 outbreaks. Beyond the pandemic, the scope of this work could be expanded to apply to other infectious diseases as the nature of the platform allows for quick adaption to different infectious diseases.”

Pence/Ryan Emails

Interestingly enough, Julian Assange released emails a while ago between Paul Ryan, ex-speaker of the House and Mike Pence and their team. Recall that in 2016, Pence teamed with Ryan for the Pence/Ryan ticket for the presidency. The back and forth is very interesting. If readers should choose to read the emails, please note that there is vulgar language in the emails and the content of the emails themselves are a bit troubling. It is time for every authentic Christian to begin every day choosing this day whom we will serve. Not choosing is choosing the default.

Let's forge ahead in faith that God still has people who need His salvation and He wants us to spread that Gospel of Good News to those folks, even if they are Leftists and unwilling to hear the truth.

Have a great day in the Lord!
