

Sunday March 22, 2020

Announcements: I hope your time is going well and you are not too anxious or frustrated with this most interesting day of God's sovereign working. The nation has not gone through anything like this in my lifetime, and we must realize God's hand is preparing and effecting something that is unique and worldwide. Will you pray for revival in your own heart and in the Church around the world?

Nobody in our congregation has this virus to the best of my knowledge. Praise the Lord for that. Be praying for each other for strong health. Be praying for each other for your daily bread and your financial needs. Pray for each other to be able to use your time to grow in the Lord and be a servant when you can. Pray for the congregations around our county and country. Christians have the perspective to give the most understanding at times like this. Stay in the Word every day, make time to pray and ask God to use you. 1Pe 3:15

The work of our church goes on as usual. The odd routines we all have now may cause you to forget or be unsure as to how giving and offering takes place. Let me know if giving you a couple of envelopes addressed to the church would be a help. The church will continue in the works of serving and meeting regular obligations so your giving will help us keep doing that.

Service: Our service today will have distinct sections as they always do. Plan your family worship time maybe Saturday evening. Help everyone know the plan. Get a notebook and your bible and hymn book and gather your family together to spend the morning worshipping and being encouraged and reminded and taught of what it is to be God's people. Heb 10:24-25. Sunday shouldn't be just a free day.

- The first section will be a preparation to worship, followed by a reading in Psalm 9. The reading will then be followed by a group of hymns,
- Hymns #54, #324, #478
- When we complete our time of singing hymns, we will have a devotional reading and meditation, primarily from 2 Peter 1:1-3. Knowledge and the Christian life.
- After the devotional reading and meditation, we will continue our expositional study of the book of Jude. Ungodliness Gives Away the Apostate.
- Our closing hymn will be #293

Turn over to take notes:

Sunday March 22, 2020

Notes: