

“God Builds the House!”
2 Samuel 7:1-17

- I. David plans to build God a _____ and God lectures David about His initiative—then God takes the initiative to bless David further (7:1-11).
- II. _____ is the Davidic king promised in vv. 12-15 with Christological implications in v. 16 (7:12-15).
- III. Consider where this text lies in the immediate context:
Good intentions were not a suitable substitute for _____ in chapter 6 (Uzzah) and good intentions are not a suitable substitute for seeking God’s _____ in chapter 7.
- IV. This text’s Messianic implications concur with God’s unfolding plan of redemption related to the “_____ of Woman” in Genesis 3:15, the _____ of Abraham in Genesis 12:3 and other texts throughout the Bible.

Isaiah 9:6-7; Revelation 22:20-21

- V. Consider the promises to David how they relate to _____.
John 15:15

“God Builds the House!”
2 Samuel 7:1-17

- I. David plans to build God a _____ and God lectures David about His initiative—then God takes the initiative to bless David further (7:1-11).
- II. _____ is the Davidic king promised in vv. 12-15 with Christological implications in v. 16 (7:12-15).
- III. Consider where this text lies in the immediate context:
Good intentions were not a suitable substitute for _____ in chapter 6 (Uzzah) and good intentions are not a suitable substitute for seeking God’s _____ in chapter 7.
- IV. This text’s Messianic implications concur with God’s unfolding plan of redemption related to the “_____ of Woman” in Genesis 3:15, the _____ of Abraham in Genesis 12:3 and other texts throughout the Bible.

Isaiah 9:6-7; Revelation 22:20-21

- V. Consider the promises to David how they relate to _____.
John 15:15