

UNDERSTANDING ISLAM – EVANGELISING MUSLIMS

This year we have had to go to print for three different editions of our bestselling book on Islam. The new, expanded edition of Slavery, Terrorism and Islam – the Historical Roots and Contemporary Threat has received much interest and positive responses, from as far afield as Alaska and the Middle East. Recently I received a message from a Christian in a Middle Eastern country which he says blocks access to our www.frontline.org.za website. However he accesses it whenever he is out of the country.

He mentioned how blessed he has been by the ministry of Way of the Master and Frontline Fellowship. “It’s silent heroes like you that inspire us to push the envelope in our Christian walk. It’s men like you that are indeed true to the Word of God. Unfortunately, much of the Gospel preached centres around health, wealth and prosperity so that evangelism such as you engage in is the remotest thing on the mind of many Christians.”

Another man who had obtained a recent copy of Slavery, Terrorism and Islam wrote to us: “It is a fascinating volume that transmits the strategic tone of what is unfolding in Africa and you clearly communicate the implications should this opposing belief system prevail.”

One review from an American authority states: “Slavery, Terrorism and Islam is an invaluable desk reference and primer for analysts addressing Islam as an ideological force...although written from a Christian missionary perspective, the text is useful for secular analysts researching a civilisational force on the march. Unlike the academics who debate that a clash of civilisations is even in progress, Hammond writes from the perspective of one decisively engaged in that civilisational fight...there is abundant material for secular researchers dissecting an aggressive ideology.”

Another Christian who was converted from a Muslim background, and now is an author exposing the teachings and practices of radical Islam also wrote to me expressing appreciation for the Slavery, Terrorism and Islam book.

When I was invited to speak to a Businessmen’s Prayer Breakfast on The End of Islam, the 80 men who participated responded in intensive prayer, and bought out a whole box of our Slavery, Terrorism and Islam books and CDs and DVDs on Islam.

On that weekend I had a two-hour interview with a radio station in Alaska on our Islam book.

We quickly ran out of copies of our second edition and soon had to print with a third edition as well as an American edition of Slavery, Terrorism and Islam.
