

The LORD is my
SHEPHERD

Walking through the valley increases our self-awareness

Walking through valley requires that we make good decisions

Walking through the valley awakens our fear of death

A large flock of sheep, including white and brown varieties, is walking along a dirt path that winds through a wooded area. The sheep are moving away from the camera, filling the path and extending into the distance. The background is filled with trees and foliage, creating a natural, outdoor setting.

Unless a grain of wheat falls into the ground and dies, it remains alone; but if it dies, it produces much grain. He who loves his life will lose it, and he who hates his life in this world will keep it

John 12:24-25

Walking through the valley draws us closer to the Lord

A shepherd's staff and a rod are shown against a light background. The staff is long and thin with a hook at the top. The rod is shorter and thicker with a club-like end. The background of the entire image is a misty mountain landscape with a shepherd and sheep.

ROD: Relatively
short, heavy club-like device.

STAFF: Longer and thinner, with a hook or crook
at one end.

With a rod,
he examines me

With a rod,
he corrects me

With a staff,
he rescues me

Our shepherd's faithful care comforts us in the valleys of life
