

In Romans 15:22-33 Paul expresses his desire to go to Spain by describing 3 precursory events.

- I. Before going to Spain Paul hopes to finally visit Rome because he has fulfilled the gospel in this region (vs. 22-24).
- II. Before going to Spain Paul intends to take the love offering from the Macedonia and Achaia churches to the poor among the saints in Jerusalem (vs. 25-29).
- III. Before going to Spain Paul desires the Roman believers to pray for both the reception of the offering and his safety while delivering it so he can come to them and be refreshed (vs. 29-33).

In Romans 15:22-33 Paul expresses his desire to go to Spain by describing 3 precursory events.

- I. Before going to Spain Paul hopes to finally visit Rome because he has fulfilled the gospel in this region (vs. 22-24).
- II. Before going to Spain Paul intends to take the love offering from the Macedonia and Achaia churches to the poor among the saints in Jerusalem (vs. 25-29).
- III. Before going to Spain Paul desires the Roman believers to pray for both the reception of the offering and his safety while delivering it so he can come to them and be refreshed (vs. 29-33).