"The holiness of God is His _____, as His grace is His riches: holiness is His crown, and His mercy is His treasure. This is the blessedness and nobleness of his nature; it renders Him glorious in Himself, and glorious to His creatures, that understand anything of this lovely perfection." - Stephen Charnock

1. Isaiah was given a _____ in which he was allowed to see the Lord in a glorious way.

*"It is not the essence of God that Isaiah sees, for, inasmuch as God is spiritual and invisible, that essence cannot be seen by the physical eye of the creature. At the same time it was a _____ seeing;
a manifestation of the glory of God in human form, adapted to the capabilities of the finite creature, which the prophet beheld!" - E.J. Young*

- a. In contrast to Uzziah, the earthly king of Judah, the _____ of the Lord is eternal and extends over all.
- b. The seraphim reverently exult in the Lord and gladly _____ Him.
- c. God is praised as the _____ one.

- d. The whole earth is and will be _____ of His glory.

2. Isaiah's vision of the Lord transformed his _____.

- a. When Isaiah saw the Lord, he pronounced the judgment of God upon _____.
- b. In the presence of God's sovereign glory, Isaiah saw his own _____ and the sin of all the people with great clarity.
- c. Those who _____ themselves before the Lord will be lifted up by Him.
- 1) The burning coal from the altar speaks of the need of _____ sacrifice to make atonement for our sins.
- 2) The proclamation of the seraph makes it clear that it is God _____ who can forgive sin.
