Under the Wings of The Most High

Psalm 91

Can we name and claim the promises of Psalm 91 to protect us from all harm? How do we interpret and apply this psalm to the threat of our current circumstances?

I. The _____ and _____ of the

Most High (1-2)

II. The _____ of the Most High (3-13)

A. No _____ (5-10)

B. No _____ (11-13)

III. The _____ of the Most High (14-16)

It is impossible that any ill should happen to the man who is beloved of the Lord; the most crushing calamities can only shorten his journey and hasten him to his reward. Ill to him is not ill, but only good in a mysterious form.

Losses enrich him, sickness is his medicine, reproach is his honor, death is his gain. No evil in the strict sense of the word can happen to him, for everything is overruled for good. Happy is he who is in such a case. He is secure where others are in peril, he lives where others die.

- Charles Spurgeon
