

Courageous Mothers—and Others

Hebrews 11:23-28 | May 10, 2020

Context: Hebrews 11 defines faith and gives many examples of those who lived by faith, and the author now includes Moses and his parents.

Faith gives us courage to obey God,

Courageous action—for mothers:

1. Do the right, best thing for your child, _____ (23).

Courageous decisions—for mothers and all others:

1. Embrace eternal values rather than _____ (24-26).
2. _____ the mission that God gives you (27).
3. Obey God's commands—even if you don't see the _____ (28).

Two important types of faith for today:

1. Faith in Christ for _____.
2. Faith in God for _____.

Discussion Questions:

1. Why was it so hard for Moses' parents and then Moses to do the things this text says that they did?
2. Can you think of other examples of people (inside or outside of Scripture) whose faith led them to be courageous?
3. Courage is not just for the "big" moments but for all of life—how can you apply this sermon to your life right now?
