

Introduction

- I. As our heads spin with anxious thoughts, we turn to our great God to find comfort.
- II. This beautiful confession of the Psalmist is found in a Psalm in which the psalmist is praying for the righteous judgment of God on the wicked.

Thy Comforts Delight My Soul

I. The Needed Comfort

- A. God's comforts speak to the multitude of anxious thoughts we have.

B. God uses our anxious thoughts for His glory, as He teaches us to find comfort in Him alone.

II. The Full Comfort

- A. The comforts that delight our soul are the ways God is mercifully present.

B. Where there is comfort there is calm, contentment, and trust in the God Who gives a perfect comfort.

III. The Delightful Comfort

- A. There can be and there is joy for God's people in this comfort.

B. We have such a delightful comfort because of God's sovereign, covenant love for us in Jesus Christ. God is the source of our joy.
