

Isaiah 46:8–11

- ⁸ “Remember this, and show yourselves men; Recall to mind, O you transgressors.
- ⁹ Remember the former things of old, For I am God, and there is no other; I am God, and there is none like Me,
- ¹⁰ Declaring the end from the beginning, And from ancient times things that are not yet done, Saying, ‘My counsel shall stand, And I will do all My pleasure,’
- ¹¹ Calling a bird of prey from the east, The man who executes My counsel, from a far country. Indeed I have spoken it; I will also bring it to pass. I have purposed it; I will also do it.

“He Who Holds Tomorrow”
Isaiah 46:8-11

INTRO:

Ira Standphill wrote: “Many things about tomorrow/ I don’t seem to understand/ but I know who holds tomorrow/and I know who holds my hand.” While we sing about it, but do we really believe it? In Isaiah 46, the LORD is having a conversation with His covenant people thorough Isaiah. The conversation is about who holds tomorrow.

In the context, the LORD talked about the Jewish tendency toward idolatry. In the first two verses of Isaiah 46, the LORD described how they had to carry their idols. “Bel bows down, Nebo stoops; their idols were on the beasts and on the cattle. Your carriages were heavily loaded, a burden to the weary beast. They stoop, they bow down together. They could not deliver the burden, but have themselves gone into captivity.” These people who were addicted to idolatry had to carry their gods. Now listen to the contrast our Lord drew in verses 3-4. “Listen to Me, O house of Jacob, and all the remnant of the house of Israel, who have been upheld by Me from birth, who have been carried from the womb: even to your old age, I am He. And even to gray hairs I will carry you! I have made, and I will bear, even I will carry, and will deliver you.” In effect God asked, “Do you want a god you have to carry or a God who can carry you?” The crux of the chapter is the question the LORD asked in verse 5. “To whom will you liken Me, and make Me equal, and compare Me, that we should be alike?” In our text our LORD told us why no idol could ever represent Him.

I. There Is No One Like Me Because I Am the God of Yesterday (v. 8-9a)

II. There Is No One Like Me Because I Am the God of Tomorrow (v. 10-11)
III. There Is No One Like Me Because I Am the God of the Present (v.9)

I. There Is No One Like Me Because I Am the God of Yesterday (v. 8-9)

A. The first reason the Israelites must recognize Yahweh is the only true God is because He is the God of yesterday.

“Remember this, and show yourselves men. Recall to mind, O you transgressors. Remember the former things of old.”

These gods they lugged around were not the gods who gave them their history. Their past was a history of the work of the one true and living God.

B. What a history this was.

1. God made all things. Then out of all the peoples He created, Yahweh [the LORD] chose one man, Abraham. The LORD called Abraham out of the paganism of Ur of the Chaldees to the Promised Land. God made a covenant with Abraham. He made of him a nation of people, who were to become His covenant people.

2. He brought them into Egypt to wait for the sins of the Amorites to become full. Then He brought them out through Moses by opening the Red Sea for them to cross. He provided manna for them and carried them through the wilderness. He then brought them into the land of promise. He gave them leaders and victories. In short, the LORD led them all the way. How did Israel pay Him back? They rejected the living God and gave their worship and service to dead idols!

C. Truly, God was the God of Israel’s past. Their history was His story. It was the story of His provision, His watch care, and His carrying them every step of the way.

1. What about us? Do we recognize God is the God of our past also? Have you ever thought about all the events and people that God coordinated so you would be saved? Perhaps He gave you a Christian home and you heard the gospel from the time of your earliest memories. He may have brought a friend, relative, or acquaintance into your life at exactly the right moment for you to respond. Whatever the circumstances, you can be sure God was at work in the background. He was at work in both you and your life before you were converted!

2. Think of where you are now. Who did God bring into your life to help you grow in Him? How did you find your spouse or your job? What did God do to bring you to this place here and now? God is always at work in our lives. That is why Romans 8:28 is such a blessing.

“And we know that all things work together for good to those who love God, to those who are the called according to His purpose.”

Although we cannot see the whole picture, we can see enough to know God has been the God of our past. Our history is also His story.

II. There Is No One Like Me Because I Am the God of Tomorrow (v. 10-11)

A. Not only is our God the God of our yesterdays, He is the God of our tomorrows also. While we often have little trouble seeing the hand of God at work in our past, we somehow think that God is passive in our future. We think He knows the future because He can look down the corridors of time and see what will happen. The fact is God knows what will happen because He makes it happen. The true and living God creates the future.

“Declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times things that are not yet done, saying, ‘My counsel shall stand, and I will do all My pleasure,’ Calling a bird of prey from the east, the man who executes My counsel, from a far country. Indeed I have spoken it. I will also bring it to pass. I have purposed it. I will also do it.”

B. What about Israel’s future? God declared it.

1. Isaiah is a book full of prophecies about how God will send Judah into captivity if she will not get rid of her idols. The book of Jeremiah is much like it. Still, even in all of the judgment and doom we read incredible statements of promise. My favorite statement of God’s mercy upon Israel is found in Jeremiah 29:12-14.

“Then you will call upon Me and go and pray to Me, and I will listen to you. And you will seek Me and find Me, when you search for Me with all your heart. I will be found by you, says the LORD.”

2. This all brings us face to face with a mystery. Some people tell us that if God is in control of the future, and He carries out His purposes in the way that God Himself says here in Isaiah, man is just a puppet and God is somehow culpable for our sins. The fact is that God does say this here. He does control the future just as He controlled the past. Still, we must do our part to obey and serve Him. He is not responsible for our sin. Nor is He responsible for the consequences we suffer because of the foolish things we do.

3. How is this possible? I do not know. However, consider how God has worked in the past. We read how that a decree went out from Caesar Augustus that the entire world be enrolled in a census. This census just happened to bring Joseph and Mary to Bethlehem in time for Jesus to be born there as prophesied by Micah the prophet. Now, why did Caesar decide to do this? It was because he wanted to do it. He did it of his own free will. But God also decreed that Caesar should do this and it happened.

4. Because this is true, Romans 8:28 is also true.

“We know that for those who love God all things work together for good, for those who are called according to his purpose.”

God can work all things together for good for those who are His because He is actively working out our future.

III. There Is No One Like Me Because I Am the God of the Present (v.9)

“Remember this, and show yourselves men; Recall to mind, O you transgressors. Remember the former things of old, For I am God, and there is no other; I am God, and there is none like Me.” Isaiah 46:8-9

A. So, we need to remember that there is no one like our God because He is the God of the past. He is also the God of the Future. Our God is also the God of the present. This is the thrust of God’s statement in verse 9.

“For I am God, and there is no other. I am God, and there is none like Me.”

B. Israel needed to recognize that the God who created the past and controls the future is the same God who is Lord right now. (1) He is the God who carried them. (2) He is the God who corrected them. (3) He is the God who pleads with them to return to Him. (4) He is the God they must fear, love, obey, worship, and serve.

C. We must not forget our God created the past, our history is His Story. We also must remember that our God controls the future, our future is in His hands. Most of all, we must recognize that He is our God in the present. We must fear, love, obey, worship, and serve Him.

1. To do this, we must first come to know Him through the Lord Jesus Christ, God the Son, who came into this world to die for us that we might live in Him.

2. Second, we need to grow in Him. Learning to fear Him by recognizing (1) Who our God is and what He is like. (2) We need to learn to love Him because He first loved us. (3) We express that love by obeying Him. And (4) we must worship Him in the beauty of His holiness. Then we will serve Him recognizing that we owe everything to Him. (5) Finally, we must trust Him.

3. We learn from this passage that if we know who holds tomorrow it will change our lives.

I Know Who Holds Tomorrow
