God's Unique and Indispensable Calling for a Woman

Saturday, July 24

What ideas come to mind
when you hear the word, feminism? How about feminine?

Such words often evoke strong emotions as they challenge our view of the world and ultimately of our God. Unquestionably, feminism in our culture is influencing Christianity today, as many conservative, Bible-believing Christian leaders are rethinking and redefining their idea of the roles of men and women in the church. Social media has been bustling with posts and blogs on all sides of the issue, even stirring strife and confusion among God's people. Considering all that has been happening, we have decided to focus this year's Ladies' Conference on this matter by considering the clear teaching of Scripture on God's unique and indispensable calling for women. It is very clear that God designed individuals with different gifts and callings, with the intention of using them to complement one another for His glory. Attacks on God's design threaten the unity and effectiveness of the body of Christ in our mission to advance the kingdom of God on earth. We pray that you will be sharpened in your understanding of the Bible's teaching, and will be equipped to live out your calling in the church, the family, and the world, to the glory of God!
