

The Declaration of Independence: A Transcription

IN CONGRESS, July 4, 1776.

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America,

When in the Course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.--That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, -- That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security.--Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature, a right inestimable to them and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining in the mean time exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavoured to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands.

He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his Assent to Laws for establishing Judiciary powers.

He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harrass our people, and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies without the Consent of our legislatures.

He has affected to render the Military independent of and superior to the Civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation:

For Quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:

For protecting them, by a mock Trial, from punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States:

For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world:

For imposing Taxes on us without our Consent:

For depriving us in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by Jury:

For transporting us beyond Seas to be tried for pretended offences

For abolishing the free System of English Laws in a neighbouring Province, establishing therein an Arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies:

For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally the Forms of our Governments:

For suspending our own Legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of his Protection and waging War against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is at this time transporting large Armies of foreign Mercenaries to compleat the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of Cruelty & perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the Head of a civilized nation. He has constrained our fellow Citizens taken Captive on the high Seas to bear Arms against their Country, to become the executioners of their friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands. He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavoured to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare, is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions.

In every stage of these Oppressions We have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms: Our repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A Prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have We been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which, would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.

We, therefore, the Representatives of the united States of America, in General Congress, Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the Name, and by Authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be Free and Independent States; that they are Absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do. And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor.

China Has Declared War on America But Soft, Stupid, Sanctimonious, and Sickly U.S. Politicians Don't Believe Them!

China's war against America has already started; however, the bombs have not been released— yet; but the Chinese Communist Party (CCP) is serious and has plans to conquer America. World domination has been their vision for almost a hundred years and still is as the CCP celebrates its 100th anniversary this month. Last Thursday, Communist Butcher-in-chief Xi Jinping promised to bash any nation that threatened China's sovereignty or threatened reunification with Taiwan.

What will Biden do when China takes Taiwan? According to his emails, Hunter Biden has had a longtime lucrative business relationship with the commies. (Been a long time since you've read that word.)

Fools, simpletons, and traitors ridicule the possibility of war and suggest such talk is divisive, dangerous, and destructive to a happy, cooperative, and safe society. They are wrong. China entered the 21st century as a benevolent giant trying to get along with everyone, so we are told. China makes its own people get along—or else.

China has been hesitant to be more aggressive with America because she is winning and doesn't see a reason to hit the release button yet.

Scholars tell us that there has always been a China as long as man has "walked upright." Extremely resilient, the Chinese survived centuries of numerous kingdoms, dynasties, warlords, military incursions, civil wars, floods, typhoons, and earthquakes. For example, the deadliest earthquake on record in 1556, in Shaanxi, China, killed 830,000 people and caused up to 66-foot-deep crevices. A 520-mile wide area was destroyed.

Millions of uneducated Chinese survived the climate catastrophes, internecine struggles, local warlords, and external attacks by developing small-scale industries. They produced silk, paper, gunpowder, and cotton that was traded for food while others farmed, trading food for shoes, tools, and other necessary items.

Millions were not successful in survival, thus making China a massive sepulcher.

China has attacked, absorbed, or acquired smaller groups and some massive groups of people and now shares international borders with 14 sovereign states such as India, Mongolia, Afghanistan, North Korea, Russia, Pakistan, etc. Over 1500 years, the reclusive nation built a 13,000-mile wall to protect it from foreign infiltration along its northern border from nomadic Mongolian tribes on horseback. Walls are known to stop cavalry attacks as well as most illegal immigrants. Additionally, the wall helped keep the natives down on the farm.

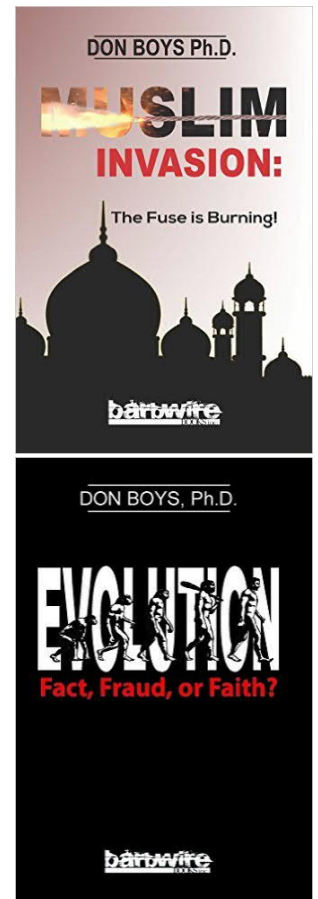

China's first dynasty started in 2100 B.C., and the last dynasty ended in 1912, becoming the Republic of China. After many years of civil unrest and rebellion followed by WW II, the People's Republic of China was birthed in 1949 after a bloody multi-year struggle with freedom-loving nationalists.

Chairman Mao Zedong led the CCP with an iron fist, and Chiang Kai-shek, leader of the opposing Nationalist Party, challenged the Chinese people for their loyalty. Chiang was born into a devoted Buddhist family but trusted Christ and was baptized in a Methodist Church in 1930. Finally, when Mao took control of the bleeding nation, Chiang absconded with about 2,000,000 followers (and the treasury) to the island of Formosa (now Taiwan) and established a Provisional Government.

Since then, China considers Taiwan a part of China, but Taiwan considers itself a sovereign nation. Even some U.S. "friends" refuse to call Taiwan a nation because it angers mainland China's Communist tyrants. Nevertheless, America has promised to support Taiwan, and therein are the sprouting seeds of WW III.

Following WW II and the bloody struggle with the Nationalists, even a thuggish Communist like Mao knew the new nation was in trouble, so he kicked off the Great Leap Forward, hoping to change the rural agricultural society into an industrial one. His first mistake (other than taking the Communist oath) was to force simple farmers to set up "backyard steel furnaces" and meet strict production quotas; however, their steel production was a farce, failure, and fatal. The backyard steel was so brittle that it was useless.

Sure, it was stupid but remember, Mao was a Communist, The Great Leap Forward became a disastrous Fallback into Famine, resulting in the deaths of 56 million Chinese. Three million were suicides.

Chinese Communism differs from the old Soviet Communism, with the Chinese model adjusted from Marx to create state-controlled capitalism. Mao decided Marx was wrong because some capitalism (if controlled by the state) would be desirable. It might help the peasants think they are free even though the CCP owns a piece of everything. Chinese officials believe the "fat of the land" should be shared with the state. At one time, the power of the state was wielded behind the scenes; now, "the power would also be exercised explicitly."

The CCP leaders admit the cooperative effort of the state with individuals is working. Everyone is happy, except those struggling to survive in the very rural hinterland. However, the residents of Hong Kong, Christians in the underground church, and assorted dissents are not thrilled with the repression of the CCP.

According to the Black Book of Communism, Communist policies in China have killed more than 65 million of its own people since its beginning in 1949. Plus, millions more died in its civil war, the Korean War, and in Tibet. Moreover, in recent years, China has harvested the organs of thousands of its prisoners, proving China is a horrific house of horrors.

China used to be our friend. Now, it is our enemy, along with Iran, Cuba, Russia, etc. The Soviet Union maneuvered China into its Communist orbit with the help of American traitors in our government in the 1940s. It is noteworthy that Senator Joseph McCarthy was not the first U.S. politician to warn about spies and the loss of China. A young Congressman from Massachusetts raised his voice a year before McCarthy.

The young Congressman sounded a clear, correct, and courageous voice because of the tragic loss of China. He placed a significant part of the blame on "a sick Roosevelt," General George Marshall, and "our diplomats and their advisors, the Lattimores and the Fairbanks." He concluded, "This is the tragic story of China whose freedom we once fought to preserve. What our young men had saved, our diplomats and our President have frittered away." That Congressman was John F. Kennedy.

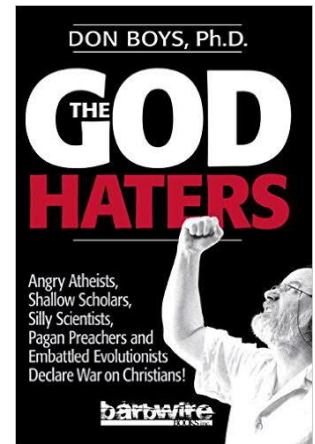

Kennedy was right and wrong. He was right that FDR was sick, but he was also soft on Communism and had Soviet agents whispering in his ear what they had heard from Stalin's henchmen.

John Stewart Service was a U.S. diplomat stationed in Chungking, China, during the 1940s and lived with two Soviet agents. The song they constantly sang to the U.S. State Department was "we can't trust the Conservative and Christian Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Government, but we can trust Chairman Mao to do the best for China and the U.S."

At the Cairo Conference on November 22-26, 1943, the tragic decision was made to follow Roosevelt's demand that Chiang Kai-shek put Chinese Communists into his Nationalist Government! That's worse than putting a fox in the henhouse. Changing metaphors, it's worse than putting a homosexual pedophile in charge of a boys' boarding school.

Compromised, corrupt, and cowardly U.S. diplomats convinced high Washington officials to withhold promised gold shipments to Chiang that would have supported his freedom fight, That treason permitted the Communists to get control of China. The traitors in high places kept aid from Chiang, assuring his defeat. When the Secretary of the Treasury, Henry Morgenthau, asked why Chiang wasn't getting U.S. aid, he discovered it was because of a Soviet spy in the Treasury Department. Harry Dexter White was a significant player in the U. S. Treasury. White was considered the highest placed asset the Soviets possessed in the American government. Unfortunately, he died before meeting the hangman. However, he is paying for his treason at this moment!

Another Communist agent, Lauchlin Currie, a key advisor to President Roosevelt, worked hand in glove with White for the Soviets against freedom and was unalterably opposed to an American agreement with Japan in December 1941. Disloyal Americans hoped for a Japanese attack upon America, which happened on the 7th. This war in Asia was a significant boost to the Soviets, primarily assuring that Soviet troops in Siberia would not be bothered by Japanese troops since they would be engaged in fighting the Allies.

Our Photostream

On November 25, 1941, Soviet spy Owen Lattimore, whom President Roosevelt had appointed special advisor to Chiang Kai-shek at Currie's urging, sent a cable to Currie protesting against any settlement between America and Japan. The Soviets wanted war between America and Japan. They got it with the help of American traitors in the pay of the Soviet Union.

The despicable termites Currie (who emigrated in 1950 to Colombia and renounced his American citizenship), White (died before his trial), Hiss (spent a few years in prison), and others were busy doing their destructive work to help the Soviet masters and hinder freedom. The FBI sent President Truman a report of White's espionage activities on December 4, 1945, with copies to Attorney General Thomas Clark. The FBI reported a "substantial spy ring" operating in the government involving White. Well, that should clear out one nest of termites, but no, on January 23, 1946, President Truman announced White's appointment to head the International Monetary Fund!

No, all Democrats are not spies or senile. Most are simply stupid.

China fell to Communism because of Soviet agents in the U.S. State Department. Consequently, Chiang relocated his Nationalist Government, air force, navy, and the government's gold to Taiwan about 70 miles from mainland China.

One and a half billion people live under Chinese Communism today because the U.S. government failed to deal with spies in high leadership positions. It is the reason there is a "two China" policy where the Peoples' Republic of China controls the mainland and the Republic of China located in Taiwan claims to be an independent nation. Mainland China considers Taiwan part of China. With only 24 million population, Taiwan is like a minnow about to be swallowed by a giant shark.

If the CCP received the nod, they would destroy Taiwan or the U.S. with nuclear bombs or, more likely, with an EMP weapon whereby our cities would be unscathed but literally forced back into the 1800s. That means no cell phones, no computers, no heat or air, no elevators, and probably no modern automobile would function. Forbes reported, "China now has super-EMP weapons, knows how to protect itself against an EMP attack, and has developed protocols to conduct a first-strike attack, even as they deny they would ever do so."

Communist agents in our government were very successful in turning China over to Communism's orbit, damning the lives of millions of unfortunate souls, and setting the stage for the final drama facing the free world. It could happen tomorrow and kick off WW III.

China's war against America has already started; however, the bombs have not been released—yet.
