Randy Alcorn, If God is Good

“Invariably, people find things at the top of the page that they also include at the bottom. Experiences they’d labeled as the worst things that ever happened to them had, over time, become some of the best things that ever happened. That’s because God uses the painful, difficult experiences of life for our ultimate good....Our lists provide persuasive proof that while evil and suffering are not good, God can use them to accomplish immeasurable good.”
