God is righteous (v. 33-34)

God is merciful (v. 33-34)

Our _____ Cannot Rob us of Christ's Love (v. 35-39)

“And we know that all things work together for good to those who love God” (v. 28)

“Yet in all these things we are more than conquerors through Him who loved us.” (v. 37)

“Paul has been speaking about affliction, distress, persecution, famine, nakedness, peril, and sword. For the moment it almost seemed as if he was unable to think of anything but suffering and hardship. Nevertheless, his real intention was the very opposite: he wanted to emphasize that in the midst of all these unpleasant experiences, in fact even by _____ of them and with their help, we are more than conquerors.” William Hendriksen
