

ISAIAH
New Heavens and New Earth
Isaiah 65:17-25

Mac Williams, Pastor
July 16, 2017

1. At the coming of the _____, God creates a glorious new heavens and new earth.

“With the advent of the Messiah the blessing to be revealed will in every sense be so great that it can be described only as the creation of a new heaven and new earth. The reference, however, is not to be restricted to the first advent but includes the entire reign of Christ, including the second advent and the eternal state.” - E.J. Young

- a. All who believe in Jesus as Savior and Lord have been made by God to be _____ creations in Christ.

- b. God gloriously transforms the Jerusalem of old into the new Jerusalem, His Church, which is made up of believers from all the nations of the world. All of which is made the occasion of great joy and _____.

2. The _____ of the new heavens and new earth begin to be experienced in the present age but will be enjoyed in full in the eternal state.

- a. God will bless His people with some lengthening of _____ in the present age, and with everlasting life in the eternal state.

- b. God grants His people _____ and blesses their labor in many ways in the present age, and with full deliverance from all enemies in the eternal state.

- c. God promises to bless the _____ of His people even to future generations.

- d. God blesses His people by promising to hear and answer their _____ in the present age, and with fullness of joy in His presence in eternity.

- e. God promises transformation of life and society by the _____ of Christ in the present age, and complete transformation of the created world in the eternal state.