

“God is Longsuffering with the Ungrateful”
Psalm 106

Introduction:

Proposition: Meditating on the historical accounts of God’s gracious dealings with His covenant people is not only profitable for instruction in doctrine, but also for reproof, for correction, and for instruction in righteousness (2 Tim. 3:16). In the light they shed, we can correctly examine ourselves and be restored to a right relationship with our Lord.

I. We are unworthy and unable to rightly praise Him

II. Our sins are unbelievable acts of ingratitude

III. Amazing grace - How sweet the sound!

Conclusion:
